No Solution As Yet To Disappearance Of Local Young Woman

Unsigned Letter And Telephone Call Are Only Clues Received

Mother Is Making Widespread Search For Her Missing Daughter

Whereabouts of Miss Florence Elliott, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph T. Elliott of 627 Arlington avenue, and a pupil nurse at the New Castle hospital previous to her disappearance on March 5, still remains a mystery.

Her mother has been busy running down numerous clues, especially those which lead to the Beaver valley district. So far they have proven of no avail. The result is that the mother is nearing a nervous breakdown owing to her inability to secure something definite and reassuring and efforts are to be renewed to secure the return of the missing girl.

Search Beaver Valley.

Only recently, Mrs. Elliott was in Beaver Falls running down the information contained in a supposed telephone message, by a supposed friend, who, however, instead of calling the mother, called another person who informed the mother. The calls were supposed to come from Beaver Falls, but were found to have been from this city. They were to the effect that the missing daughter was in Beaver Falls.

Now there has been received another clue of much the same character, although slightly more reassuring, but still from the Beaver valley district.

Unsigned Letter.

This is in the shape of an unsigned letter postmarked 7:30 a. m. April 4, at Rochester, Pa. The letter was addressed to the missing girl's sister, Miss Mary Elliott at the New Castle hospital. It was unsigned and purported to be from the missing girl. The handwriting, according to Mrs. Elliott, has many appearances of being that of her missing daughter.

The letter stated that the missing girl was all right and working, and concluded by saying that if an effort was made to locate her at the place of postmark, that she would be farther on, intimating that she might move on to some other place.

Mrs. Elliott fears that it might be possible that the letter was written under duress and that her daughter may be detained by some unknown person against her wishes. Efforts will be made to trace up this clue.

Sapiro's Income Still Growing

Farmers Have Paid Over $750,000 To Sapiro, It Develops In Trial

BY WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
International News Service Staff Correspondent

FEDERAL BUILDING, DETROIT April 7.—Revelations of the gross income paid Aaron Sapiro, so-called cooperative king by American farmers in the last decade, neared the $750,000 mark today at the trial of the Ford-Sapiro libel suit.

Senator James A. Reed, chief of Henry Ford's counsel traced Sapiro's income from his amazing activities in the farm world dollar by dollar. Reed devoted hours of cross-examination to Sapiro's connection with fruit growers. The cooperative king testified he received $20,250 in fees since 1921 from the Federated Fruit Growers, Inc., alone.

The estate is about 15 miles north of Vice-President Dawes' home in Evanston.

Senator Reed Attacks Lowden As Sapiro Admits Friendly Relations

REED'S FUTURE IS NOW PROBLEM

Sapiro Returns To Witness Stand For Eighth Day Of Cross-Examination

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON

DETROIT, April 7.—The million dollar Ford-Sapiro libel suit took on new political significance today following the attack of Senator James A. Reed of Missouri upon former Governor Frank O. Lowden of Illinois.

With both men mentioned prominently for their party nominations in the 1928 presidential race, speculation was rife here as to the probable effect of the trial upon their political futures. Lowden apparently had little to gain and everything to lose with Reed demonstrating that, as counsel for Henry Ford, he would have little mercy on the former Illinois governor. Lowden was drawn into the case by his friendship for Aaron Sapiro, the plaintiff.

After a sneering reference to Lowden as "making his living off the Pullman family," Reed said

Hewitt Trial Is Moving Slowly, Examine Jurors

Fine It Difficult To Select Jury List To Try Youth For Brutal Murder

(International News Service)

JEFFERSON, Ohio, April 7.—A third venire of prospective jurors was called today in the trial of Floyd Hewitt, 16 year old youth, charged with the slaying of Fred Brown, Jr., 5, and under indictment charged with killing the boy's mother, Mrs. Fred Brown. The second venire was exhausted Wednesday, with eleven tentative jurors seated.

In answer to a question as to whether they had formed any opinion regarding the crime, a majority of those examined replied in the affirmative, and great difficulty is being experienced in selecting a twelfth tentative juror.

Throughout the proceedings, Hewitt sits seemingly undisturbed. The most pathetic figure in the courtroom is Fred Brown, Sr., husband and father of the victims of the brutal clubbing in Conneaut, last February 14. Sobbing almost constantly, he threatens to break down under the heavy burden of his grief.

Alienists may be called upon by both defense and prosecution during the trial, according to reports here today. The defense it is said, will be based upon testimony of doctors who are expected to declare that Hewitt is of sub-normal mind. Prosecutor C. B. Cook said today he would probably take steps to have psychiatrists examine Hewitt in an effort to prove he is mentally capable.

Train Robbery Stirs Chicago; Loot Runs High

Estimate Train Robbers On Fringe Of Chicago Get Between $2,500 And $20,000

TRAIN EMPLOYES ARE TRUSSED UP

Police Scour City For Trace Of Daring Bandits In "Cowboy" Hold-Up

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, April 7.—The southwestern fringe of Chicago was being combed today for two bandits who last night held up the Lincoln Limited, crack Chicago and Alton passenger train, and escaped with loot variously estimated at between $2,500 and $20,000. Only the baggage car was entered. None of the passengers nor the engine crew was aware of the robbery.

The bandits boarded the train as it moved out of Joliet at 9:30 last night. One wore an army overcoat. They donned black net masks, drew revolvers and pushed their way into the baggage car.

There they encountered Conductor James Connery and A. A. Gotthoff, express messenger. Connery was bound and gagged and rolled in a corner. Before Gotthoff could executive their order to open the safe, Frank Wenglass, diner chef, and George Mitchell, a porter, walked into the car.

Loot Is Divided.

Undismayed, the bandits calmly tied up Wenglass and Mitchell and rolled them in the corner with Connery. Gotthoff was then forced to open the safe. The bandits took the entire contents and sorted it carefully. Currency and negotiable papers were divided equally between them.

All other papers, including non-negotiable bonds, were piled on the floor of the car and burned. The bandits then trussed up Gotthoff and rolled him against the others. After going through their victims' pockets, obtaining $150 more, the bandits left the train.

One swung off at Western avenue and the other at Halsted street.

The robbery was discovered when the diner steward came to see what was detaining his chef. He had

Tabby Cat Is Mothering Flock Of Little Chicks

Wonders of the present age will never cease. You've often read of some of these strange things but it is seldom that you can actually see them. Here's a chance, however, to get a look in on one of the strange happenings of the day.

Charles Altenberg, cook at the P. & L. E. camp at West Pittsburg, is the possessor of a cat, which he thinks a lot of. Recently the cat had kittens and all of them died in spite of the efforts of tabby to keep them with her.

Seeing that his pet was inclined to mourn the loss of her offsprings and was not maintaining her usual attitude, Altenberg had a happy thought. Why not get pussy something else to mother and keep her happy and contented.

So he purchased 27 day old chicks and turned the little furry bipeds over to his four-footed friend. The peculiar thing is that tabby has assumed the ownership with delight and is spending her time mothering the litle chicks.

This unusual sight is attracting widespread attention in the West Pittsburg district and all unbelievers, doubters or others who may be interested in finding out the truth of this story can do so at any time by visiting the camp.

Italian Airmen Disappointed At Loss Of Valuable Ship By Fire

(International News Service)

ROOSEVELT LAKE, Ariz., April 7.—A delayed, disappointed but determined to continue his intercontinent flight, Commander Francesco De Pinedo, whose giant monoplane, the Santa Maria, was destroyed by fire as preparations were being made to hop off for San Diego yesterday, today supervised attempts to raise the engine of his plane from the waters of the lake.

Putting the Santa Maria in condition for resumption of the flight is deemed impossible, so Commander De Pinedo will have to await the arrival of a sister ship of the Santa Maria before the flight can proceed. This, he said, he was willing to do.

The flight will be continued from here, according to the Italian airman.

Mrs. Feronti Institutes Habeas Corpus Action At Ridgeway To Secure Daughter

Habeas corpus proceedings have been instituted in the court at Ridgeway, in an effort on the part of Mrs. Patsy Feronti, to secure possession of her six year old daughter, who was taken to Johnsonburg, Pa., by her father last week, the mother announced this morning.

The hearing will take place on Monday, according to the mother.

Mrs. Feronti in a statement to The News today, declared that the letter sent yesterday by Patsy Feronti, father of the girl, was erroneous in certain parts. He did not come to see the girl, but picked her up on the street while she was enroute to school, the mother said. Further, it was four and a half hours after the girl was missing that he telephoned that he had taken her, she added. "He telephoned from Brockwayville, when he did tell us that he had the girl."

Mrs. Feronti also declared that the reason her daughter accompanied Mr. Feronti was that she believed that she, (the mother) was also going.

"I was in Johnsonburg several days last week in an effort to secure my daughter, but was unsuccessful, so the court proceedings were started to have her returned to me," she said.

Millionaire Crop For 1926 Shows Increase According To Report

Income Tax Returns For Recent Year Show Bumper Crop Of Million Class

Treasury Without Knowledge Of Just How Many Wealthy Men There Are

By GEORGE R. HOLMES
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, April 7.—A bumper crop of millionaire incomes is being grown this year in the fertile soil of national prosperity, according to all advance indications marked down by the United States Treasury.

Unless the dollar seers of the Treasury are far off in their predictions, the number of persons who have just paid taxes on incomes of more than a million dollars during 1926 will reach the astounding total of 250. The number of people paying taxes on incomes ranging downward from one million dollars a year to a quarter of a million is expected to correspondingly increase.

The Treasury does not know, and has no means of knowing, just how many millionaires and multi-millionaires there are in the country. It does know, however, that 207 persons "confessed" to incomes of more than $1,000,000 in 1925, the last year for which complete figures are available; that 138 persons admitted and paid on incomes between $750,000 and $1,000,000 annually; that 340 others paid on incomes between $500,000 and $750,000, and that the aston-

Department Of Justice Agents At Cincinnati Uncover Organized Ring

SEEK GARAGE MAN FOR STORING CARS

(International News Service)

CINCINNATI, Ohio, April 7.—A score or more of additional arrests throughout the country were expected today as department of justice agents here, and in a dozen other cities, delved further into the national ramifications of a highly organized ring of automobile thieves which was uncovered Wednesday.

According to local police and department of justice operatives, the activities of the ring were exposed through the confession in Indianapolis Monday of Rupert Puthoff, 33, who was brought here heavily guarded, yesterday to further bare the alleged workings of the ring.

The majority of the automobiles were stolen in Indianapolis and Chicago, it was said, Cincinnati, Louisville, Detroit, Cleveland, and Miami, Fla., being the main marketing points.

Three persons were under arrest here today in connection with the preliminary investigation of the ring. They were: James Usher, 29; Elton Siemer, 30; and Perry Lancett, all of Cincinnati.

Department of justice agents said they were holding three persons in Indianapolis, and another man was understood to be under arrest in Chicago.

A fourth Hamilton county man was being sought today; he was believed to be the owners of the garage where the stolen cars were stored.

Mrs. F. H. Cypher of Boyles avenue, has returned from the Youngstown city hospital where she was recently operated upon. She is reported much improved.

Injured Firemen Making Progress Towards Recovery

Damaged Fire Engine Is Being Repaired By City Mechanic

Harry Malley and Frank F. Gorley, city firemen, who were injured early Wednesday morning, when the No. 7 fire truck upset on North Cedar street, between Swansea and Mahoning avenues, were reported today as doing as well as could be expected.

Malley, the more seriously injured of the two men, is in the Shenango Valley hospital, where it was reported today that his general condition is good. There is still some question as to just what will be necessary in the case of his right foot and ankle, which were so badly crushed in the accident. Every possible effort is being made to save his foot and some hopes are entertained that it can be done.

Gorley is confined to his home today. His injuries while not serious are quite painful and he is suffering considerably more today than immediately following the accident.

City Master Mechanic McMillin has completed his inspection of the No. 7 truck and has found that the damage done is not near so great as at first thought. All repairs on the job will be made in the city repair shops. It is possible that the apparatus will again be in the service in less time than at first anticipated.

Model Oil Town In Ruins After Terrific Blast

Parco, Wyoming, Competely Destroyed By Blast And Fire That Follows

(International News Service)

PARCO, Wyo., April 7.—Parco, model city of the Wyoming oil fields, built at a cost of ten million dollars, is in ruins today, following the explosion of the two high-pressure cracking stills at the Producers and Refiners oil plant early yesterday morning.

Sixteen men are dead, one is missing, and three are so seriously burned that they may die.

Plans for a community funeral are being made today.

The blast, which rocked every building in the city, blew out windows, and sent debris hurtling thru the streets, was followed by a raging fire that spread to eight other stills in the Cracking battery, and threatened huge storage tanks that contained thousands of gallons of gasoline.

Nation-wide Plea Is Being Made For Doomed Pair

Sacco-Vanzetti Defense Committee Making Final Effort To Save Them

(International News Service)

BOSTON, April 7.—Members of the Sacco-Vanzetti defense committee today were engaged in organizing public meetings throughout the country in a nation-wide plea to save Nicola Sacco and Bartolomeo Vanzetti, convicted slayers, from the electric chair.

Although Defense Counsel William G. Thompson was delving into all points of law before the sentencing of Sacco and Vanzetti on Saturday, the defense committee in a published statement frankly announced that "our sole hope now is the public science." At the meetings throughout the nation speakers thoroughly familiar with the case will present it.

The outcome of the various meetings, Sacco-Vanzetti supporters believe, will result in a huge petition to Governor Alvan T. Fuller for executive clemency.

Unless a legal move is made to interfere, death sentence will be given on Saturday at Bedham court house. Sacco is in Bedham jail and Vanzetti will be removed from state's prison, where he is serving a term for another robbery, to Bedham.

Meanwhile, guards continue to be stationed about public buildings and the homes of judges and prosecutors.

POLITICS ENTER LIBEL SUIT IN DETROIT COURT

privately: "I intend to ask whether it was the same Lowden who sent $37,000 into my home state trying to get the presidential nomination in 1920 but I forgot it." So much for what Lowden may expect at Reed's hands.

Lowden as Friend.

The danger to Lowden's political future lays in the fact that Sapiro stands charged with being a "fraud, cheat and grafter who exploited the American farmers." Ford's defense was that the charges were true.

Sapiro drew Lowden into the case as his friend, confidant and advisor. He told how Lowden attended conferences at which his cooperative plans were arranged. It is a certainty that Lowden is his favorite candidate for the Republican nomination in 1928.

Should the jury of six men and six women, all of them voters, decide that Ford did not libel Sapiro and that the charges were true, Lowden would be in an embarrassing position. Ford attacks rained on Sapiro's cooperative plans, as admitted in the suit, and the effects of an adverse verdict might well ruin Lowden's political future. If the jury should render a verdict in Sapiro's favor clearing his name and award him damages, political observers here do not believe Lowden would gain anything. His present strength, they pointed out, lies chiefly in the agricultural sections and what he has cannot be given to him.

The possible effect of the trial on Reed's future presented a problem to political seers. It was thought here that the case would not have much effect one way or the other on Reed's political career as he joined the Ford defense soleiy as a matter of business.

Sapiro meanwhile was to return to the stand for his eighth day of cross-examination by Reed and the end was not in sight.

MILLIONAIRE CROP FOR 1926 SHOWS INCREASE ACCORDING TO REPORT

ishing number of 8,873 paid on incomes between $100,000 and $500,000 annually.

The Treasury prediction of an even greater crop of millionaire incomes for the year 1926 is based upon the proven fact that '26 was a better all-around business year than '25. And advance indications for 1927 are that it will exceed 1926 in prosperity.

Millionaire Chart

The "millionaire chart" since the first year of the income tax law, just compiled by the Treasury, offers an interesting study in national prosperity and in the relation of payments to tax rates.

The compilation shows:

Year	Max. surtax rate		No.
1914	9	per cent	60
1915	9	per cent	120
1916	15	per cent	206
1917	67	per cent	141
1918	77	per cent	67
1919	73	per cent	65
1920	73	per cent	73
1921	73	per cent	21
1922	58	per cent	67
1923	58	per cent	74
1924	46	per cent	75
1925	46	per cent	207
1926	25	per cent	250

(Estimate)

The number of millionaires has not actually fluctuated as much as the figures indicate, according to government experts. The fluctuations simply mean, they say, that under the abnormally high rates during and immediately after the way many found legal ways of evading the tax.

Hundreds of wealthy persons, for example, followed the example of Senator James Couzens of Detroit, one of the wealthiest men in the country, and placed their fortunes in tax-exempt securities. Others wrote off huge losses under the "capital loss" provisions of the revenue act. Others engaged high-priced lawyers, who saved them millions.

With the 25 per cent rate now effective, and the prospect that the next Congress is going to lower this, Treasury experts anticipate a tremendous amount of wealth coming out of hiding and returning to activity.

Under the present rates the Treasury experts contend that it is cheaper for the man of big income to pay the federal tax than it is to hire expensive legal talent to enable him to evade it.

For this and other reasons, it is anticipated that the present growing crop of millionaires and multi-millionaire incomes will break all existing records, and that the 1926 figures will reveal at least 250 persons in that class. And if the present business prosperity keeps up, they anticipate the 1927 crop will be greater still.

Coal Strike Causes Railroad Workers To Be Given Layoff

No general layoff has been ordered, Brickworth said, but each division has been instructed to cut its personnel to conform with requirements. Most of the men laid off worked on trains except at Kenton, O., where there was a heavy reduction of shop workers.

Officials of the Baltimore and Ohio and Hocking Valley lines disclaimed any intention of cutting their forces. They said the mines in their territories were not operating when the suspension was called.

Carroll was sentenced for perjury in connection with the wine bath affair, staged at his theatre a year ago.

"It's the bitterest dose I've ever had to swallow," Carroll said as he made plans for serving his time.

He was cheered somewhat by letters from the Lambs and Players clubs saying both clubs had passed resolution which would be forwarded to Justice Goddard requesting clemency for the producer.

cars, to the committee on electric railway. The vote to recommit was 79 to 31. The action, it is understood, marked the death of the bill.

Senator Flora Vare's resolution proposing an amendment to the constitution to permit legislation authorizing appropriation for old age pensions was passed on second reading. It was then made a special order of business on final passage for next Monday night.

Fifty appropriation bills furnishing funds to state-owned and state-aided institutions, were passed finally. When the Haws bill, providing for the erection of a monument on the capitol grounds here in honor of the late Senator Penrose was reached, Representative Rhodes, Monroe, interrogated the sponsor, asking why the memorial was necessary.

Representative Haws, Philadelphia, said that persons who knew what the late senator had done for Pennsylvania would never deny a monument to a man of his ability.

The bill, carrying an appropriation of $20,000 for the erection of the monument, was passed finally, 182 to 12.

The Miller bill to permit general contractors to withdraw retained percentages on public works contracts and substitute United States Government, Commonwealth of Pennsylvania or municipal bonds was passed finally.

Senator Kunkle's bill providing for a check of liquid measuring devices was placed on the postponed calendar.

A bill sponsored by Senator Harris, Allegheny, making it unlawful for Mutual Savings or Building and Loan Associations to charge a withdrawal or membership in excess of fixed amounts also passed.

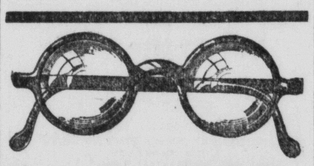

Senator Earnest's bill authorizing and empowering cities of the third class to recognize the moral obligation of the city to pay just claims against the city, although under existing laws no recovery could be had, received house sanction and now goes to the governor as it had passed the senate.

Considerable debate preceded action on the Bidelspacher anti-stream pollution bill. The bill was designed to preserve and improve the purity of the waters in the stream of the state and for the protection of public health, animal and aquatic life. It carried provisions for abating pollution and for repealing certain acts. The bill was defeated 86 to 45.

Representative Turner's bill providing for the making, adopting and administration of general plans for public improvements, authorizing the creation of planning commission and authorizing their powers, was defeated 72 to 43.

The house adjourned at 12:50 this afternoon on motion of Representative Haws, Philadelphia, until 3 o'clock Monday afternoon.

KEEPING UP

AN investigation conducted by a guaranty company to ascertain to what extent and why men are dishonest reveals that defalcations are increasing. That more is wanted than one is able to acquire honestly is ascribed as the chief reason for departure from rectitude. An effort to keep up with the neighbors, to be regarded as a liberal spender, often leads to "borrowing" from the employer's till.

There is an intent at first to return the money but difficulty in accumulating a surplus in the face of continuing demands makes restoration difficult. The next time it is easier, probably, to take a little larger amount until in time the shortage becomes so great that there is no hope of being able to wipe out the defalcation and the only effort is to delay discovery as long as possible.

It is a person of weak character who feels an obligation to keep up with the neighbors when the income does not warrant such expenditures. It may be that the neighbors are not provident either. It is true that many things once esteemed luxuries have in common view become necessities. But one should have enough independence of character to restrict one's expenditures to one's purse. Many do but the proportion of those who do not is increasing, if the guaranty company's finding does not exaggerate the situation.

TO PRESERVE THE YOUTHFUL FIGURE

TWO quacks in New York who promised to make fat people thin have been indicted by a federal grand jury on the charge of using the mails to defraud. There is something pathetic in the general willingness to believe what one wants to believe. The ground of the impostor is thus all prepared for him. The number of obviously impractical schemes that can be put over on the presumably intelligent is amazing. Nor do frequent warnings serve to diminish it.

Those who carry too heavy a burden of flesh seem to be especially susceptible to false promises. They know that if they go to a physician for advice they will be put upon a severe diet, calling for the sacrifice of the kinds of food they like best and of which they have eaten too much. Anyone who professes to be able to help them by some mysterious hocus-pocus which does not call for any abatement of their appetites receives a credulous hearing. Often those who are not fat, in the ordinary meaning of the word, seek to regain their youthful slimness. Not regard for physical well-being, but mere vanity, moves them.

Probably the best recipe for averting an excess of adipose tissue is to eat plain food and take plenty of exercise we are told. Modern life, unfortunately, is all against this regimen. People overeat and ride in cars when they ought to walk. Three heavy meals a day may do for a laborer in the open air, but they are fatal to those who follow sedentary callings.

PLETHORA OF FICTION

FIVE million people are today buying newsstand fiction in this country and it is the exceptional month that does not witness the introduction of at least one new monthly periodical. Of course as the years pass some of these purveyors of fiction suspend publication but the new arrivals exceed the departures.

The average newsstand and stationery store offers its patrons a choice from among fifty or more magazines of which the majority are devoted to fiction. The avidity with which the public devours this form of reading matter has made its publication highly profitable to both publishers and retailers, although it is to be feared that most of it is more entertaining than edifying to the reading public.

But while the demand for newsstand fiction has multiplied many times over, the demand for the good has increased proportionately with that for the bad and indifferent. It is difficult to recall wheen there has been so much excellent magazine reading as there is today, so while the greater popularity of trashy magazin fiction is not occasioned by a dearth of worthwhile magazines, it can be tolerated if it is in any way responsible for the improvement in quantity and quality of the better periodicals.

Bible Thought For Today

Hints and Dints

Sun sets tonight 6:31. Sun rises tomorrow 5:34.

There are people who do not have a string on what they offer. They have a rope on it.

Last year more than nine thousand persons in the United States paid income tax on fifty thousand, or more than there ever had paid taxes on that sum. This shows that fifty-thousand-dollar men are on the increase.

A college president is advocating higher salaries for college presidents. If they pay the educators more they will have to reduce the sport leaders. And then the fight will be on.

It's dangerous to leave the club ahead of the rest of the bunch if you value your reputation much.

Now we are told that the wearing of cotton stockings by women has only declined 20 per cent in this country. The eighty per cent must be wearing 'em in the country districts.

Spring really will not be here until the coming of a circus is announced.

If they are pitching horse shoes that never were worn by a horse, the place is a resort.

A lady in Pittsburgh was excused from jury service in court because she had 100 chickens to take care of and some horses to care for and if she had to serve on the jury she would have to walk four miles night and morning. She evidently could not get a place to park one of her nags if she rode it.

Some days ago we announced that we had received a cluster of grapefruit from Sid McKay at St. Cloud, Florida. We thought that bunch looked quite familiar to us at the time. Yesterday we saw Bert Yoho, who has a citrus orchard in St. Cloud, and he told us the fruit was from his trees. Then we remembered that we had taken a picture of it while it was on the tree. Bert was away fishing when we called and he told us yesterday that we missed a fine fish dinner. Nobody told us anything about staying for the fish dinner. The grapefruit was on display in this office until it dropped from the stem. We thanked Bert for letting Sid send it to us. Mr. and Mrs. McKay have returned to this city and will go back to their fine winter home in St. Cloud this fall.

We heard a bird say he was not afraid to die yesterday, but he made more fuss over an attack of dandruff than most men do over yellow fever.

Preachers in Kansas City churches are opposed to the teaching of modern ballroom dances in the public schools. Some of the preachers have evidently seen some of this kind of dancing and cannot be blamed for protesting against it if they are true to their calling. One thing all kids do learn these days, and that is dancing. No matter how backward a student may be, dancing is his chief study.

You can generally tell whether the barkeep is drawing near beer or the real article by the number of fellows you see hanging around.

A bill passed by the Senate of Pennsylvania will cut down by one-third the amount of small game a hunter shall kill in one season in this state. Nothing is said about the shooting of farmers or any livestock on the farms, however.

A man who had made sixty trips across the Atlantic Ocean dropped dead while dancing on a ship coming to this country. He was buried at sea, and no doubt the sea has claimed its own now.

A Pittsburgh man shot himself and left word that he wanted to be buried with his cat. Poor cat!

Our demand is that muffler cut-out on dogs shall be closed after nine p. m.

The wise man we understand, is the one who makes his own opportunity. But he doesn't prove to be so full of wisdom when he euchres the wrong girl into a two passenger porch swing.

A New York justice has ruled a man had "deserted" his wife when he didn't speak to her for 10 years. We wonder if the justice gave consideration to the possibility that he didn't have a chance.

We recently read in a theatrical advertisement that a certain show "outstripped them all" and wondered if this was really an example of truth in advertising.

The women of this country are said to have spent $40,000,000 last year on beauty culture. That's what they spent—even if they didn't get what they spent the money for.

The principal thing in a Chicago election is the machine drilling. For several weeks prior to the last election ex-army men practiced on the shore of the lake so as to be in trim for election day. The gangs there are quite expert with the machine guns and the police have to be quicker than the bandits. And while the machine guns decide the election, the honest citizen just votes, but it is seldom counted.

Irish potatoes have been recommended to the Japs as the principal food to take the place of the customary rice. If the potatoes put the fighting Irish spirit into the Japs along with what they have, look out.

Real orange juice is about as hard to buy on the open market as real likker.

It is reported that 2,057 bills have been introduced into the present session of the Pennsylvania legislature. Seems to us a bill to abolish the legislature would be a good one to have passed.

At this time of the year, when the mud is real on the roads of the county and unpaved streets of a city, seems to us to be the right time to make moves for hard roadways. It ought not to be hard, at least to make sentiment for the good roads.

Nothing has been sent out from the bathing beaches so far this spring pertaining to the kind of bathing suits that will be permitted during the coming summer. Bathing suits now contain more goods than many street dresses, so this censorship is not necessary any more. Bathing beaches are great places now for those who like to see.

A sour face usually indicates that the milk of human kindness has turned.

A woman fell in coming out of her home a few days ago and several gentlemenstarted over to help her up and inquire after her health. But before they could reach her she let out some cuss words at a little girl, presumably her daughter, and the men concluded that a woman who could swear as she could wasn't hurt very much. She had to pick herself up without masculine assistance.

Someone who thinks turn about is fair play has invented a bed that can be turned into a table. It's now the pool table's turn to laugh.

"Why are the chickens making such a noise, mamma?"

"They want their breakfast."

"Well, if they're so hungry, why don't they lay themselves an egg?"

Judge Clarence Dearth, who was tried by the Indiana Senate on a number of charges, was acquitted not because he wasn't guilty, but because there wasn't enough votes to convict him. Two-thirds are necessary to convict and the vote showed one or two less than this majority. He got through all right, but by the skin of his teeth.

BEAUTY

I sought a guide to lead me
Up the rugged mountain side,
That I might view the sunset
From an outlook far and wide.
The golden sun was sinking
'Mid a cloud bank in the west
That looked just like a city
In celestial beauty drest.

Its glowing tow'rs of sapphire,
Streets and mansions made of gold,
And trees of shining silver
Were enchanting to behold.
In ecstacy I pointed
To the vision there so plain,
Said I, what wond'rous beauty!
Said the guide, "It looks like rain."
Alas, thought I, how sordid
All this world must seem to you,
Unmoved by nature's beauty
So magnificent to view.
And then we both descended
To his cottage half way down,
So snugly there reposing
Overlooking mead and town.

He show'd me through his garden
And the lawn with beds of flow'rs,
Where shrubbery outstanding
Formed inviting shady bow'rs.
He pointed out the beauty
Of the view that met our gaze—
The contour of the mountains
Wrapt in sky-blue tinted haze.

My friend, said I, you've taught me
Here a lesson grand and true—
I've climbed the lofty mountain
To behold one fleeting view;
I've only looked for beauty
As I climbed toward the sky,
While you have found it present
In the things that 'round you lie.

You can tell the wrong side in any controversy. It calls the most names.

Gasoline has been reduced one cent a gallon and that will make up for the increase in gas tax that has been added to consumers in this state. We are glad that gas is coming down in price and hope a few more cents is lopped off it. The cheaper it is the more we will use.

William H. Thompson was elected mayor of Chicago on Tuesday and there wasn't anyone killed in the election, either. Perhaps Thompson took a few lessons from Vare in this state and put the votes in the ballot boxes instead of having voters put in their graves.

It should be a lot more comfortable to be arrested for speeding than for manslaughter. A lot of speeders are lucky in this respect.

If the rumor is true that locomotives are to be named after the prominent men of the country, our guess is that the one named after William Wrigley Jr. will be called "Chew Chew".

President Coolidge thinks the United States is big enough to handle its own Chinese affairs without help from other countries. He tells our representative in China to demand apology and indemnification for injury to American lives and property, and will take no joint action with Britain and Japan.

So far, so good. We don't need a Chinese war.

Four British film companies form a "great merger, amounting to $12,500,000." Don't laugh, the British are serious.

Here we might capitalize one moving picture actor for $12,500,000 but if you tried to unite our four greatest moving picture concerns it would amount to a dizzy sum.

The British used to sing, "We've got the men, we've got the ships, we've got the money, too."

"The American moving picture industry," Punch points out, can sing, "we've got the money, we've got the stars, we've got the sunshine too." Also, it has the brains more important than money, sunshine or stars. Brains create money, develop stars and get along without the sunshine.

Henry Ford's stores will be run only for his employes hereafter. That ends agitation among merchants who declared that they couldn't compete with Ford's low prices.

The financial end of the business didn't interest Ford, his profit being only $400,000 a year, a sum not worth noticing. To one who asked him recently, "Is the Lincoln car making money yet?" Ford replied. "Well, no, or rather, come to think of it, I believe it did make about $4,000,000 last year, but that isn't what you can call making a profit."

Civilization's problem is cheap distribution of life's necessities, giving citizens full value for their dollars. This doesn't mean business men shouldn't make the profit to which they are entitled. It means modern business tends more and more to "low profit, big volume."

Another high school boy kills himself asking his father's and mother's forgiveness, writing: "I have been a complete failure," in his message. No boy is a complete failure until he runs away from the battle of life. Then he is a failure.

Every man that runs away from a battle probably has a good excuse in his own mind, but every one is a coward. If boys would get that fact into their heads there would be fewer youthful suicides.

The city of Chicago was a mud flat along the lake, with a fort where white people might hide from Indians.

Later, it was a pile of ashes. At present it is the most progressive of the four biggest cities in the United States, with the possible exception of Detroit. It has 1,000 millionaires, listed as such on income tax returns, and thirty citizens declaring incomes of over a million a year each.

The best of it is that Chicago men, proud of the city they have helped to build, stay in Chicago after they have made their money and spend in Chicago what they made there.

They even think that Chicago has the finest climate in the world, which shows you what local pride can do, mixed with imagination.

Chicago's election will be over when you read this, not so many dead, only a few wounded. By way of teaching our Chinese friends the ways of self-controlled democracy we ought to have brought over a Chinese committee to watch that Chicago election.

In Day's News

The Archbishop of Caterbury, Dr. Randall T. Davidson, who today enters upon his eightieth year, is at once the holder of the highest office in the British realm and the most historic Church office in England, one which dates back for hundreds of years before America was discovered. The first Archbishop of Canterbury was Augustine, appointed A. D. 597. The Archbishop of Canterbury ranks immediately next to royalty, taking precedence over every one of the king's subjects, no matter whether duke, premier, lord high chancellor or secretary of state. Dr. Davidson is a scot—a rather curious fact when one remembers that he is head of the Church of England. No fewer than 25,000 clergy look to him for advice and spiritual guidance. For a quarter of a century Dr. Davidson has been Archbishop of Canterbury. In his early career he was a humble curate in the North of England.

Dr. Crane's Editorial

WIVES' WAGES

Mr. Henry Ford came out some time ago in favor of wages for wives.

He said that somehow or other we shall have to work out some scheme for a wage value for woman's work at home.

When asked to commit himself exactly as to what woman's work was worth Mr. Ford declined to do so, saying that with changing conditions that values changed.

A woman when she marries merges her personality into that of her husband. She becomes literally "the half part of a blessed man," therefore a woman is entitled on the face of it to at least half the man makes. If she is to give up her activities, except those of housewife, and concentrate her abilities upon her wifely duties and the bearing of children, she ought to share in whatever prosperity the man has. She should be credited with the making of at least half of what he makes.

The old idea of a woman being a man's chattel is out of date. It has gone the way of all other forms of slavery.

She is a man's partner and companion.

Every single woman ought to have some kind of business in which she supports herself, and every woman who is married, and especially the mother of children, has a right to consider her wifely position worth fair wages.

Many homes are disrupted because of financial disputes. Probably money matters lie at the bottom of most disrupted marriages.

Let the woman be independent and have her own means.

Let her not be compelled to live with a man because she is economically dependent upon him.

Let her stand squarely upon her own feet and she will be a better companion and a more loyal helpmate.

Put confidence in women, give them their legal rights, treat them fairly and they will respond to the trust imposed upon them.

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

A NEW WEAPON

Captain Barnett W. Harris, representative of the Chicago Zoological Society and the Field Museum, his invented an anesthetic bullet for use in capturing big game. Captain Harris will soon take the field in the wilds of Sumatra, Borneo, India, and Africa to obtain specimens for a new zoo at Riverside, Illinois, and instead of subduing gorillas, orange-outangs, and other fierce denizens of the jungles with deadly pellets of lead, he will give them a long distance injection of a strong anesthetic fired in a bullet from a gun. Within a few minutes after the needle bullet strikes its quarry, the animal will become unconscious and can be secured without danger to the captors or injury to the specimen, according to the claims of the inventor.

A New Yorker writing to the New York World sees the promise of a revolution in the use of firearms through the development of the anesthetic bullet. "If it is so fine for animals," he asks, "then why not for human beings? This bullet, if it came to general attention, might go a long way to reduce the homicide rate. It is difficult to think of any use for a pistol that could not be served as well by such a bullet as by a lethal bullet. Police when they have to use arms to take their quarry, no doubt would prefer it; and criminals might feel the same way, especially since they are notoriously averse to standing in the shadow of the gallows."

Captain Barnett conceived the [illegible] in the jungles, and it appears to be an excellent device for his purpose.

MARY'S MOTHER

Mary's mother used to say:
"Why should Mary want to stray?
All she'll want while she shall live
Lies within my power to give."
Ad when youth came wooing round
Always Mary's mother frowned.

Mary wants a home to keep.
Wants a space of floor to sweep.
Wants some windows of her own
Now before her youth has flown.
"Why should such thoughts fill her head?
Mary has a home," she said.

Mary's mother held her fast
As the young years traveled past.
Clinging to her, more and more,
Now the crepe is on the door.
And the mother soul has flown
Leaving Mary here alone.

Oh, the pity of it all!
Never lover comes to call.
Mary has her mother's things.
It's her mother's bell that rings.
But no joy can they supply
For her mother drained them dry.

Mary's mother loved and wed,
Swept her floor and made her bed;
Left the house her youth had known
For a cottage all her own.
Then she died and left her child
Lonely and unreconciled.

SISSY BOYS

Mothers often worry because their little sons are so rough and rowdyish. They are shocked because the little brutes prefer to have their hands dirty and revel in fighting. They are concerned because their small sons cannot be induced to keep their new clothes intact, but insist upon a generally torn and dilapidated appearance.

Such symptoms are no cause for justifiable concern. Be glad if your boy is a boy. It is natural for him to go through a glorious period of barbarism. Let him enjoy it, and by no means try to make a dandy of him.

But if your young son is inclined naturally to dandyism—look out! This tendency to sissiness is very easy for a wise parent to control. It may often be induced in a boy by too great concern for his neatness and prettiness on the part of his mother. It is seldom, indeed, that the father objects to a little roughness and savagery in his son, but mothers are more likely to be frightened by these perfectly healthy symptoms of developing boyhood.

Some boys acquire a tendency to kittenish ways along about their second year in high school. This is more likely to be the case if the father is dead or otherwise missing from the home. The sensible father will detect instantly any inclination to sissified manners on the part of his young son, and will promptly give him a good lecture on becoming behavior for young men.

If Sonny exhibits a desire to preen himself before the mirror, to use sister's powder puff, to spray himself with delicate scents, and is apt to spend a good deal of time talking about the texture of silken garments, it's a mighty good idea to send him post-haste to a good military school or some other educational institution. No normal parents want to rear a cake-eater son, and it is the part of wisdom to act promptly as soon as you observe indications of morbid dandyism in a boy of high school age.

Clear Up Several Store Robberies

Police Say Boys Confess To South Side Store Robberies

LADS ARE HELD FOR SQUIRE'S HEARING

Through the efforts of Officers C. C. Horner, Thomas Lynch and Jack Young, and the cooperation of the South Side residents, several robberies perpetrated in that section of the city on the fifth and sixth of this month were cleared up and most of the stolen goods recovered.

Five boys: Augostine Fantzze, aged 16, South Jefferson street; Mike Matey, aged 17, 697 Arlington avenue; George Balinsky, aged 13, 1330 Moravia street; Frank Matey, aged 12, 697 Arlington avenue, and Leo Zrebic, aged 12, 1322 Pennsylvania avenue, were arrested yesterday by the officers. The three younger boys were caught earlier in the day and the two older boys were arrested late in the afternoon, when it was found that they were implicated and the probable ring leaders of the gang.

The Bright & Clark five and ten cent store, the store of Charles Basharo, 121 East Long avenue, and the Huston Hardware store on Long avenue, were the places entered. The robberies were perpetrated between the hours of 11 p. m. and 12:30 a. m. They only succeeded in getting into the basement of the five and ten cent store.

The articles taken included six or seven revolvers, shells and fifteen knives taken from the Huston Hardware store, candles and small glasses taken from the five and ten cent store, mail pouch, fifteen packages of cigarets, two cakes and some chewing gum taken from the Basharo store. Most of this stuff is now in the possession of the police, and will be turned over to the owners as soon as the case has been disposed of.

This morning the five boys were turned over to Alderman J. Lee Cooper, where charges of breaking and entering, receiving stolen goods and larceny were made against them by Chief of Police Henry Dysart. They are being held in the Detention home pending the disposition of the case.

According to the testimony of the smaller boys, the older boys had them rob the stores, keeping watch outside and then compelling them to divide up the loot. The smaller boys claim that the older boys, who are out on parole urged them to get them some revolvers.

The Balinsky boy admits throwing the stone that broke the window at the Huston store, the police say. A rear window of the Basharo store was broken to effect an entrance.

Attendance Low, Senators Fail To Act On Measures

By WILLIAM B. BROWN.
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HARRISBURG, Pa., April 7.—With less than a quorum present the senate today was unable to consider bills for final action. All such bills were passed over and only those on second reading considered.

All second reading bills were passed hurriedly by considering only one on each page. More than half of them were appropriations.

A number of recesses were taken to wait for bills being forwarded from the house as action there was taken.

Failure to act on bills for final passage today will compel a session Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock. The senate hopes to get rid of the heaviest part of the last week jam by long sessions Monday and Tuesday.

HOOVER HEIGHTS TROOP

Hoover Heights Troop of Boy Scouts met in the South New Castle Boro Council room Wednesday with 28 of the 32 members present, and several visitors.

The first thing on the program was an answering bee, the four patrols consolidating into two sides, the Flying Eagles and Fox patrols against the Ravens and Wolf patrols. Two points were allowed to the patrol having the most members standing. This proved to be an easy winning for Rodger Burke of the Rovens who seemed to know from memory the contents of the whole Boy Scout hand book.

The Flying Eagles won 1 point for good turns for the week having a total of 51 good turns. For improvements the Flying Eagles are to make seats in the waiting room for members also for visitors who are cordially invited to attend the meetings each Wednesday evening.

Stone Masons At Work On Castleton

Stone masons have started work on the stone work on the exterior walls of The Castleton, new hotel being erected at the corner of North Mercer and Falls streets. The brick layers will be at work on the outside walls in the near future.

Workmen are about ready to start work on the super structure for the sixth story of the hotel.

New Working Rules Presented

Delegation Presents New Regulations And Scale For Engineers

A delegation of the Building Trades council of this city this morning held a conference with M. J. Kintz, superintendent for the H. J. Conrath company, in the construction of The Castleton hotel in an effort to settle the controversy with the Youngstown hoisting engineers. During the discussion the delegates presented to Mr. Kintz new working rules and scale of the engineers effective May 1.

Under the new scale and working rules, the time for which overtime must be paid is extended, the class of work over which the engineers have jurisdiction is changed and an increase from 80 to 90 cents an hour is asked.

Superintendent Kintz declined to act in the matter until he had an opportunity of looking over the working rules, which are radically different rfom those now in effect and also an opportunity of having them up for consideration by all the contractors of the city.

Legion Post Will Banquet Ellwood

Winners In Membership Contest To Be Guests Here This Evening

Ellwood City post of the American Legion are being banqueted by the Perry S. Gaston post of the Legion Home on North Jefferson and Falls streets.

This banquet is given the Ellwood City boys as a reward for their winning out in the recent membership contest. The contest was based on the rule that New Castle had to obtain two new members to every one of Ellwood's.

On this basis although the local post obtained a large margin over the number by the neighboring post, they could not double the number.

About 100 of the Legionaires from Ellwood are coming to eat of the fruits of their labors. Local boys are joining with them so that it will be quite a large affair.

Musical Program At Kiwanis Club

Kiwanis club members were entertained at their luncheon held yesterday noon at the Y. M. C. A. banquet hall by a musical program under the direction of the music committee.

Bernie Mack's orchestra gave several very good orchestral numbers while several vocal solos were given by Mrs. Elizabeth Fleming, colorature soprano, and Joseph Stritmater, baritone.

All report it a very pleasant program and the artists were extended a unanimous vote of thanks and the club hopes that the music committee will repeat the treat at some date soon.

Say Sinclair Not In Jail Yet

Wiseacres At Washington Declare Case Not Yet Concluded

CASE PENDING IN SUPREME COURT

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Exclusive Cetral Press Dispatch to New Castle News.

WASHINGTON, April 7.—Although the cynic who said, "You can't convict a million dollars," has been proved wrong—for weren't Harry F. Sinclair and his millions convicted of contempt of the United States senate?—it remains to be seen whether or not jail yawns for any such amount of money.

Even the Sinclair prosecution admits there may be several slip-ups between the verdict against Harry and the day when prison doors slam, with the oil magnate inside 'em.

It's more than three years already since Sinclair turned a deaf ear to questions of the senate public lands and surveys committee concerning the means by which his Mammoth Oil company got its lease to the navy's Teapot Dome petroleum reserve. Nobody imagines it will be less than another couple of years, at the soonest, before the federal supreme court passes on the contempt case, with the term behind the bars that goes with it.

When that time comes, maybe the cynic above referred to will still be in a position to say, "You can't beat a million dollars on appeal anyway."

At that, the consensus of Washington legal opinion is that Sinclair's two heavyweight lawyers, Martin W. Littleton and George P. Hoover, haven't much to congratulate themselves on, in that they didn't get their client off as well as Attorney Frank J. Hogan did for his customer, E. L. Doheny.

Doheny had hard luck with his civil suit, to hang onto his Elk Hills oil lands, but they didn't stick him on a criminal charge, at all events.

It's true that Sinclair's stretch won't be very long, at the worst. Yet the energy of his counsel's fight to show the legal limit on his possible stay in the hoosegow is only one month, and not four, hinted that he'd have preferred none whatever.

The judgment of court officials, who watched both the Fall-Doheny and Sinclair trials, is that Doheny in particular, and to some extent Fall, got the benefit of considerable human sympathy that didn't go out so warmly to Sinclair.

Doheny, on the witness stand, got in some popular licks about his early days in the Wild West, his experiences as a hasher in a cheap restaurant, his adventures as a mule skinner and his wanderings as a "desert rat", with an empty canteen and bad Indians and rattlesnakes "laying" for him back of every sage brush and cactus plant.

It was romantic and exciting. And here he was—a "poor old man" of 70, with his arm in a sling, and all that kind of stuff!

Fall wasn't so effective, but he profited some by the overflow.

Sinclair, on the contrary, gives the impression of "soft hands and a hard face"—referred to by the late Col. Roosevelt:

Hogan made the most of Doheny as a regular old pioneer, which Littleton and Hoover couldn't do to such good advantage with Sinclair, because he wasn't one. He was a druggist.

Another thing Sinclair's friends have complained bitterly about from the first was that darned name —Teapot Dome.

If the thing had simply been referred to as Naval Oil Reserve No. So-and-so, they say the case never would have had any such popular appeal as it did have.

But "Teapot Dome" lent itself to every paragrapher and cartoonist in the whole country and the publicity they gave it did the business.

Penmanship Play Is Presented By Franklin Students

"The War Of The Letters" Is Given At Junior High School This Morning

Commercial students of classes 7B5 and 7B6 of the Franklin Junior High school presented a play at the assembly period this morning at 10:35 which demonstrates good penmanship. The play will be repeated at the Friday assembly, tomorrow at the same hour.

The penmanship play which is called "The War of the Letters" is being directed by Miss Twila Kitch, teacher of dramatics. She is assisted by Miss Annabelle Randals and Miss Mary J. Wilson. The play opened with a penmanship record by the Victrola which is the first that this has been heard in the school. Amil Lelenko gave a short speech on penmanship.

The plan shows the proper position for correct writing. Costumes appropriate for the characters have been arranged, large pens are the weapons while the lieutenant's regalia is an ink bottle.

The principle actors are Harry Felton, Lieutenant B; Jalman Jenkins, Captain A; Lillian Myler, teacher; Rachael D'Errico, Emma Lou Smith and Anna Bailey, children; other actors are Johnnie Jones, Tommy Brown, Paul Refner, Thomas Jones and Gale McCoy.

Iron Age Review On Iron And Steel

April Gives Promise Of Steady Production; Features Of Market

The Iron Age in its weekly summary of the iron and steel trade says: Production of pig iron in March was at a rate exceeded only in one month last year. Output was 3,483,362 tons, or 112,366 tons per day, comparing with 2,940,679 tons in February, or 105,024 tons a day. The highest daily average in 1926 was 115,004 tons in April. The percentage increase in the daily make, practically 7 per cent, gives evidence of last month's high steel ingot production.

April in steel gives promise of continued heavy operations, chiefly on the momentum of March business. New buying and specifications have let down moderately in the past week, but only a few companies have as yet revised steel making schedules and these represent less than a 5 per cent reduction. Bars, plates and shapes are not noticeably firmer, irregularities still obtain in sheets and in cold finished bars, and while higher prices obtain on bolts, nuts and rivets, they are accepted on contracts on which specifications will come later. What the steel makers are facing is the virtual end of realizing further economies of manufacture, and leaders among them express the hope of a wider recognition that selling prices are now practically the sole measure of profits.

Threatened importation of European steel by water through the Welland Canal to the Central West is recognized as a likely price factor, if it should assume measurable proportions. Early efforts in this direction failed partly because of the freight charges, partly because of the difficulty of meeting American requirements and partly because of damage in handling.

The coal strike is still without effect as a market factor, save that reduced haulage does not leave expectations high for such railroad car business. The shutting down of union mines has produced a slightly stronger tone in the coal market, but non-union coal is to be had in good volume.

Automobile makers have ordered a large amount of steel for this month, but new business will be governed by current automobile sales. Some falling off in common sheets is balanced in part by demand for auto-body material, and strip steel mills are operating at a high rate.

New structural steel inquiries total about 54,000 tons. Oil well casing and drive pipe is waiting on a correction of the present overproduction of oil, but meanwhile urgent orders for tanks and gas lines are absorbing large tonnages of plates. Chicago reports three companies taking over 13,000 tons and inquiries for 20,000 tons. Two 20-in. gas line contracts, 250 miles in all, will require 44,000 tons of steel yet a Pittsburgh district producer of seamless oil well material had to shut down last week.

Plan Recruiting Of Eligibles For Service In Prohibition Bureau

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, April 7.—The country-wide campaign of the civil service commission to recruit eligibles for the 2,500 positions in the prohibition bureau which were classified under the civil service law by the last congress, was launched today.

Open competitive examinations will be made for one chief of the field division, which carries a salary of $6,000 a year, five prohibition zone supervisors, 24 prohibition administrators, 24 assistant prohibition administrators for enforcement work, 24 assistant administrators for permissive work, 50 deputy administrators, 1,260 junior agents, 109 investigators, 228 agents, 74 attorneys and various other officials, ranging in salary down to $1,800 a year.

The commission announced that the examinations "will be practical, each kind specially designed to perform the particular branch of work for which that kind of examination is held."

All of the examinations will include ratings on training and experience, an oral test and a character investigation made by the commission with the assistance of other government agencies.

Fingerprints will be made of all applicants who attain eligible ratings. These will be used to check the accuracy of the applicants' statements as to arrest, indictment or conviction for crime or misdemeanor.

"Forty---Eight" To Meet On Site Rich In Lore

Exclusive Central Press Cable New Castle News.

PARIS, April 8.—"Forty and eight" fun-making and honor organization of the American Legion, will have headquarters in the Hotel Palais d'Orsay in the midst of a typical French section during the ninth annual convention September 19-23 under arrangements which have been announced by Bowman Elder of Indianapolis, national chairman of the France Convention committee.

Looking from the windows of the Hotel d'Orsay the Legionnaires will see the bookstalls along the bank of the Seine and the barges plying back and forth on the river. Under the central section of the hotel is the Gare d'Orsay (railroad station.)

Rich in History.

The location of the Palais d'Orsay is rich in French history. A river navigation company used the space in 1740 where the Gare d'Orsay and Palais d'Orsay now stand. Fifty-seven years later in 1795, their building became the barracks for the police. Five years later the buildings were used for the quartering of the Consular Guards and became known as the Quartier Eugene. The name was changed in 1805 to the Bonaparte Barracks and in 1810 the Palais d'Orsay became a municipal building and in 1871 was destroyed by fire. The ruins remained until 1896 when the space was cleared of debris and the present railroad station and hotel erected.

The site of the Palais d'Orsay has witnessed strange assemblages since Boucher d'Orsay, a Parisian magistrate staked it off in 1708. The stirring scenes of the Empire, the arrival and departure of the kings' coaches at No. 1 of the Quay, the courtiers departing for St. Germain, Versailles, Fontainebleau or Compiagne, wherever the king might be living, the changing throngs of soldiers in succeeding wars and the arrival of the delegation to the League of Nations.

Perhaps the strangest of all these will be the "wrecks" staged by the hilarious "40 and 8" next September.

Appeal To Sportsmen's Clubs To Prevent Spring Fires

Charles E. Dorworth, secretary of forests and waters, has requested sportsmen's clubs of Pennsylvania to aid in the prevention of spring forest fires by exercising caution in the forests. He called attention to American forest week, April 24 to 30, and said that week would be appropriate to exert especial efforts in forest fire prevention.

"With spring time come flowers, fishing and forest fires," he said. "The welcome flowers reminded by nature break through the ground. The hot sun and disappearing snow call the fisherman to his favorite sport. But who wants forest fires? No one, I dare say, yet over 99 per cent are caused by man. Most of them are preventable."

AMAZING RECOVERY OF LOCAL MAN PROVES THERE IS HOPE FOR ALL

Had Rheumatism So Bad He Couldn't Move Without Crutches; Is Back At Work Again Since Taking Dreco

"It's a wicked shame for folks to suffer with rheumatism when it's so easy to get relief by taking Dreco," is the enthusiastic statement made to the Dreco Man at Eckerd's Cut Rate Store by Mr. P. G. Hess, 408 Martin street, this city, a popular motorman employed by the New Castle Street Railways.

"Nobody in New Castle ever suffered worse with rheumatism than I did. Why for one solid week I couldn't move, even to turning over in bed, and when I did finally get relief enough to get up I could only get around with the aid of crutches and a cane. My leges were swollen up twice their normal size and my knees were as stiff as a steel rail. The only way I could get upstairs was to crawl on my hands and knees and it took two people to turn me over in bed. I became as skinny as a fence post and at one time everyone thought I was about to pass away.

"One day I read of Dreco so I sent my daughter after a bottle. After taking three-quarters of it I felt a little better so I sent my son after three bottles. Now I've taken eight bottles all together and I'm like a new man. I'm back at my old job as motorman and I haven't missed a day from work since returning to it. I haven't an ache or pain in my whole body and to see me jump on and off the cars you'd think I was 25 instead of 61. I've gained 25 pounds in weight and my wonderful recovery has amazed everyone of my family and friends."

If you are played out, can't digest your food, can't work, can't play, have lost courage, give Dreco a chance to show itself the best Friend you ever had.

Mr. S. P. Thorp, the well-known Expert from the Dreco Laboratories now at Eckerd's Cut Rate Store, is telling scores of people every day how to take Dreco for best results. Go to see him. His advice is free.

You frequently hear people say: it pays to buy good shoes. The statement is true, but some think it means that high prices must be paid for quality. Kinney Shoes are good shoes at low prices. The reason for this is plain to more than 6,000,000 people who bought Kinney shoes last year. A great nation-wide organization operating more than 270 shoe stores and selling the output of 5 Kinney factories make possible the economies reflected in Kinney's low prices.

Three Important Measures Before Senators Today

Indications Point To Passage Of Important Bills At Legislature Session

HOUSE TAKES UP ELECTION BILLS

BY WILLIAM B. BROWN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HARRISBURG, Pa., April 7.—Three bills which caused considerable discussion and close votes in the house are up for final consideration in the senate today. Early indications point to their passage.

The measure of Representative Sowers, Philadelphia, which provides that a search warrant must be served within five days after its issuance is the first on which some "no" votes may be cast. Despite the assertions of its sponsor the bill has been looked upon as an attack on the freedom of prohibition enforcement officers and therefore opposed by the lobbyists which line both sides of the house aisles.

The Hass, Lehigh, bill which provides that a person who has been tried in the federal courts cannot be brought before a state court for the same offense also has been labeled as a wet measure.

Although there never has been any indication of any considerable wet sentiment in the senate passage of the bills is forecast because of the safeguards which their sponsors say they erect for all citizens.

Another Sowers measure which caused acrimonious debate is that providing all teachers in the public schools must be citizens of the United States. The measure is backed by the ever active organizations which move under the banners of "patriotic societies" and was opposed only by certain elements from the larger cities.

Appropriations Up.

The senate is hearing the end of the long list of individual appropriation measures but has half a hundred up for final action today.

Every step to promote speed in Thursday sessions has been taken by the senate which hopes to reach an early adjournment in preparation for the heavy grind which cannot be avoided next week.

The house of representatives having passed finally and sent to the governor the mandatory ballot box opener, the administrations bill to increase the limit of the workmen's compensation act, appropriation of $2,750,000 to the Mothers' assistance fund and the Leslie anti-branch bank bill, was ready to pay more attention to election bills today.

Other election law bills were advanced from second to third reading and may be acted upon finally today.

The house defeated the Sunday fishing bill, the horse racing measure and the Sterling bill to continue the state parole commission.

MENU HINT

When tired of potatoes in the daily menu use rice for awhile. Plainly cooked it may be served with the meat gravy the same as potatoes. If you use it in place of potatoes for only one meal cook enough to make a pudding for the next day. There are many combinations of meat or vegetables and rice. Spanish rice is one of them and is a tasty dish for luncheon, dinner or Sunday evening lunch.

Spanish Rice
Lettuce or Cabbage Salad
Whole Wheat Bread and Butter
Baked Apples Tea

TODAY'S RECIPES

Spanish Rice—One-half cup uncooked rice, one medium sized onion, two strips bacon, one pint tomatoes, one-half teaspoon salt, pepper, few grains red pepper. Cook rice until tender. In a frying pan crisp bacon which has been cut in small pieces, add onion cut fine and salt and pepper. When this is well blended add tomatoes and heat through. In buttered casserole place layer of rice, then layer of tomato mixture until all is used. Place an extra strip of bacon cut in fourths on top and cook in oven until bacon is crisp.

Six Bridges To Be Built In County

MERCER, Pa., April 7. — Bids will be returned at the office of the County Commissioners on six bridges that have been posted on the date of April 19th. The bids call for the construction of two spans of 30 and 35 feet in the Mercer-New Wilmington road known as the Garrett bridges located near the old brick mill location.

The site of one bridge will be slightly changed from its present location to improve the highway of concrete that will be built over this route at some time in the future. The state highway department was interested in having the bridges constructed it is said indicating an interest of that department in this route. The other bridges are small and should be built for an average of $2,000, it is estimated.

It is stated that if proper bids are returned on these bridges that contracts will be let at once on them.

DR. W. B. CALDWELL AT THE AGE OF 83

Old Folks Need a Mild Laxative —Not a "Physic"

Most men and women past fifty must give to the bowels some occasional help, else they suffer from constipation. One might as well refuse to aid weak eyes with glasses as to neglect a gentle aid to weak bowels.

Is your present laxative, in whatever form, promoting natural bowel "regularity"—or must you purge and "physic" every day or two to avoid sick headache, dizziness, biliousness, colds, or sour, gassy stomach?

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin helps to establish natural, regular bowel movement even for those chronically constipated. It never gripes, sickens or upsets the system. Besides, it is absolutely harmless and pleasant to take.

Buy a large 60-cent bottle at any store that sells medicine or write "Syrup Pepsin", Monticello, Illinois, for a FREE SAMPLE BOTTLE and just see for yourself.

Wag Tells Story That Nick Has Large Income

Tagged Autoist Informed "Nick" Gets "Cut" For Tagging Cars

Of Course, The Story Is Untrue, But Nick Bears Brunt Of Joke

Patrolman "Nick" Faella of the traffic squad, or lieutenant of the "chalk brigade", because he "marks and tags cars", has been made the victim of a jokester, but Nick says he doesn't care.

Here's the situation:

Since Nick was placed on the traffic squad and assigned to "marking and tagging cars" he has had to place police cards in automobiles which violate the parking time.

Recently an automobilist who had been tagged showed his card to a wag standing nearby, whereupon the jokester remarked:

"He is certainly making lots of money out of that job."

"How?" asked the man.

"Well, don't you know he gets 50 cents for every car he tags?" asked the jokester.

The man scratched his head and gradually the story spread and it finally reached "Nick".

He laughed the story away.

Whenever a tag is placed in a car the owner must go to the police station, where he pays a fine for violating the law. The fine is generally one dollar. The city gets the entire sum.

Double Parking Problem

The members of the traffic division, which includes other members of the department, have a difficult job and one which keeps them busy.

They are courteous and seldom overstep common sense rulings, and as a result the rank and file of automobilists do not object to the police doing their duty as they are told to do it.

Traffic men have a problem to solve and it is probable that Police Chief Dysart will soon issue a strict order to prevent "double parking".

Some automobilists apparently do not care for the rights of others, stop their cars in the middle of Washington street and other busy lanes, thus blockading traffic.

Policemen "watching lights" may be instructed to "stretch their vision" in the near future and traffic will be benefitted for the majority and not for the few.

The various committees report that everything is in readiness for the opening of the Big Indoor Circus which the Knights of Pythias lodges of New Castle are staging for ten days starting tonight April 7th. and lasting until April 18th at The Gardens on Neshannock Ave.

The program will include 12 professional Circus acts furnished by the Milton Holland Circus Co. of New York City, after which free dancing will hold the boards until Mid-night. In addition to the circus features the Knights of Pythias have a Popularity Contest in which several young ladies of New Castle are participating, the goal being three beautiful diamond rings which are on display in the windows of Harry Klivans Jewelry store.

Hogue's Dancing Academy, formerly named The Gardens has been transformed into what appears to be a real circus arena, where funny clowns and dare devil acrobats will do their stunts, among which are some of the most noted artists in the Circus World. As a special added attraction the circus committee have secured the services of Eddie Brubaker and his London Kit Kats who will furnish the music for the circus as well as the dancing.

As an added free attraction in connection with the circus Iron Jaw Mott will give a free exhibition of endurance and strength on Neshannock Ave., in front of The Gardens consisting of pulling several loaded automobiles with his teeth at 7:15 p. m. on Tuesday night.

The doors of the circus will open at 7 p. m. with the show starting at 8:15 and according to reports on the advance sale of tickets it would be advisable to be there early to assure admittance.

Prohibits German Band Playing In New Castle

Bandmaster Requests Permission From Chief To Play Here

Dysart Refuses Permission, Saying Streets Are Too Narrow

In the days of pre-Volsteadism and before the World War, the "German band" could be heard here and there; in almost every city of the United States, but since the enactment of the prohibition law and the war the German band has been missing from streets of most cities and none have played in New Castle, and if Chief of Police Dysart continues the attitude he has adopted no German band will play here "until further orders".

He made this plain today when the leader of a "German band" visited city hall and when ushered into the office of the chief requested permission for the band to play in New Castle today.

Streets Too Narrow

"The streets of this city are too small for any assemblage. Your request cannot be granted", said the chief.

"The band will play on the outskirts", said the bandmaster.

"The request is refused", replied Dysart, terminating the interview.

Thus ends "German bands" here, for the present, at least.

Action for a divorce for the Vanderbilts has been filed with the Seine tribunal.

The court has ordered the appearance of both parties or their lawyers before a conciliation tribunal. This formal effort to reconcile the two parties is set for next week, and is the usual French legal procedure prior to the actual granting of a decree. In the event of the conciliation tribunal failing in its efforts a decree may be expected within the course of two or three weeks.

Three Cent Gas Tax Bill Passes

Legislature Passes Bill Imposing Gas Tax In State; Governor To Approve

HARRISBURG, April 7.—Motorists in Pennsylvania will pay a tax of three cents a gallon on gasoline after June 1.

The present tax of two cents a gallon becomes permanent at that time, and a third cent will be added until 1929, when additional bond money is exected to be available for road construction.

Imposition of the third cent, concerning which there has been little doubt for some weeks, became assured when the state senate on Wednesday passed three bills on the subject. The house had passed the bills Monday night.

Approval of the bills by Gov. Fisher is unquestioned, as they were sponsored by the administration to obtain additional money for road construction until bond money is available. The third cent is expected to net the state more than $12,000,000 in the next two years, the increase being estimated at slightly more than $6,000,000 a year.

Will Study Production Records Of County Cows

One of the outstanding features of the rogram of the Westfield Cow Testing association during the past month was a meeting held in the local agricultural extension office a few days ago. Several of the leading dairymen, who have been members of the association continuously for a period of five years or more met with the county agent, C. R. Gearhart dairy specialist from state college, and the tester, Charles D. Henry, at which time the method for keeping long time record sheets on individual cows was explained.

The purpose of keeping these sheets is to study the production record both by years and lactation periods, the amount of feed consumed by the cow and the length of lactation and dry periods over a number of years.

The men attending the meeting felt that this is one of the best ways to study their herds and follow a definite constructive breeding program.

The association has just completed its fifth month of its testing year with 25 herds having been tested, made up of 274 milking cows. During the month four unprofitable cows were sold. The ten highest producing cows in butterfat for the month were owned by:

J. B. Elder, Volant, 64.8 pounds butterfat.

H. A. Freed, Racine, Pa., 58.1 pounds butterfat.

R. D. Dawson, New Galilee, 56.4 pounds butterfat.

J. W. Martin, Bessemer, Pa., 55.2 pounds butterfat.

J. B. Elder, Volant, 53.1 pounds butterfat.

W. W. McMillen & Sons, Wampum, 47.4 pounds butterfat.

Geo. Augustine, East Palestine, O., 47.4 pounds butterfat.

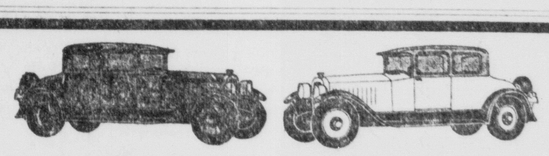

H. L. McCurley, Enon Valley, 46.9 pounds butterfat.

H. L. McCurley, Enon Valley, 46.6 pounds butterfat.

J. W. Martin, Bessemer, 46.2 pounds butterfat.

The largest stock of coats ever purchased by Neiman's at any one time has been received for a mammoth record-breaking sale which they announce as beginning tomorrow, Friday morning at 8:30 o'clock.

Every garment is vouched for as being perfect goods manufactured for selling the Spring season of 1927. Neiman's assert that the coats were bought at unusual concessions, and will be sold to the public at equal savings.

The quantity of coats in this purchase accounts for the fact that manufacturers were willing to make unheard of concessions in order to unload their surplus stock. Neiman's are always ready to take advantage of market opportunities.

Lawrence county women are certainly lucky to be able to buy such high quality brand new spring coats at the prices we understand Neiman's have set.

Last Monday the first of the coats began to come in from the manufacturers in New York. As the coats reach the store each was thoroughly inspected to make certain that they fully maintained the high standard of quality which Neiman's coats always maintain. When found satisfactory they were marked and put in stock for you to choose from in the mammoth record breaking sale event tomorrow, Friday.

Did You See Neiman's Window Display?

Neiman's have their windows trimmed for their great coat sale. With so many coats now in their stocks and such a variety of styles it would be impossible for them to display them all. But from the ones now on display in their windows you will be able to see what beautiful coats they are, and the low prices asked for them.

THE WEATHERMAN SAYS "WARMER"

Miss Spring in all her glory is overdue, but she's coming and when she does—Oh—watch out—You'll need a new Spring Coat sure as anything. Better hurry to Neiman's great coat sale tomorrow, Friday, at once. And you'll save money for the values Neiman's offer tomorrow are not to be found elsewhere.

Take Advantage Of Neiman's Lay-Away System

A Small Deposit Holds Any Garment

Neiman's state they will allow their lay-away system to be taken advantage of during this coat sale. So everyone will have a chance to get a coat during their great coat sale tomorow, Friday. A nominal deposit will hold any coat until called for.

Buy Your Coat At Neiman's Tomorrow

Because

1. Neiman's is headquarters for coats.
2. Neiman's know every coat maker in the market and know where to buy to the best advantage for themselves and their customers.
3. Specializing on coats they do not overlook any type or taste. They buy for the children, the junior, the miss, the woman of conservative or extreme taste and the stylish stout.
4. They have an organization trained in buying and selling coats.
5. They give you more coat value for your money because they buy and sell such enormous quantities.
6. It matters not what kind of a coat you want; material, color, styles or sizes you will find your coat in Neiman's Great Coat Sale, tomorow, Friday.
7. They want you to prove the truth of their statements—so go to Neiman's tomorrow and put their advertisement to the test.

History Repeats

Event Last Spring Great Success

Neiman's made a similar coat purchase last Spring at a time when the market offered great price concessions on coats. Their coat sale last Spring established a precedent for supreme value giving.

Their purchase and sale last Spring was a great success, and it still remains in the mind of the public, the wonderful values they obtained during that sale.

The crowds were so large at their coat sale last Spring that they were unable, even with their extra help, to wait on all the customers. But preparations are being made to handle even a larger crowd at their coat sale tomorrow, Friday.

Hive Of Bees Taken Into Local Schools

State College Man Gives Demonstration And Talk On Bees

L. H. Hawthorne, County Bee Man, Accompanying State Expert

Edwin J. Anderson, Extension Apiarist of State College gave several talks on bees before the students of Benjamin Franklin Junior high school yesterday. Today he spoke before the Mt. Jackson school in the morning and the Eastbrook school in the afternoon.

Mr. Anderson in his talk tells of the make-up of bees and as to their habits of making honey, etc. He says that when we pull out a bee sting it is better to scrape it out and not try pulling it out and thus squeeze the stinger and press the poison into the wound.

These talks on bees is sponsored by the Lawrence Bee Keepers Association under the Lawrence County Farm Bureau. L. H. Hawthorne who is known as the "honey man" to many of the boys of the county accompanies Mr. Anderson and assists him in the demonstration. This is the first time that the extension department of the college has attempted to bring before the schools the subject of bees in this manner. Next fall they hope to make a more extensive demonstration in many schools of the state.

Mr. Anderson demonstrated his talk with several charts and a portable demonstration hive of bees. The hive is arranged with glass on both sides so that the bees can be seen working on the comb. The queen bee can be seen in the mass of workers. Also baby larva bees are seen in the cells.

In speaking of the make up of the bee, Mr. Anderson said that the skeleton of the bee is on the outside and the muscles and soft tissues on the inside. He said the blood of the bee is not red and goes from the six chambered heart in a large vessel where it is dumped into the body cavity and then returns to the heart without any blood vessels.

As the bee has no way of restoring energy by sleep like we do he said that they keep going until their energy plays out and then they die. He said the life of a bee is from 6 weeks to 6 months.

Mr. Anderson said that a hive of bees has been known to have made as much as 400 pounds of honey in one season. The nectar when taken into the hive is over half water. The bees then get near the entrance of the hive and by their wings fan the honey inside until the water evaporates, the average honey having only 20 per cent water. The yellow we often see on the bees leg is not honey but pollen which is used for bee food.

The boys showed a great amount of interest and almost all of them put down their name and address to have sent to them literature from State College about bees.

6 GOOD REASONS WHY YOU SHOULD BUY THE ERSKINE SIX
CUSTOM FOUR-DOOR SEDAN

$995 F.O.B. FACTORY

1 All steel body, custom design, with deep drawn steel stampings forming beautiful curved lines at the back, and curved side members carried over the top, constituting the finest possible body construction. Body trimming of Bedford cord and broadcloth. Novel instrument board in duotone colors, with cigarette and glove boxes built in, gasoline gauge and customary instruments. Fine hardware and interior decoration. Entire body much superior to any competitive $1,000 job ever offered in America. Comparisons are urgently invited and will prove convincing.

2 Chassis of modern simplified design. Material and workmanship of Studebaker quality throughout, comparable to the finest obtainable. Self-energizing four-wheel brakes, nickel plated bumpers front and rear, motometer, beautiful crown fenders, and numerous other quality features never before furnished in a $1,000 car.

3 Beauty and smartness characterize the car. The body, fenders and general outlines were designed by R. H. Dietrich, one of the foremost custom body designers of the country. The car has irresistible style appeal. It created a sensation at all of the European automobile shows and the shows in this country, where it was viewed by over two million people.

4 The performance of the car is remarkably efficient and much superior to most, if not all, cars in the $1,000 field. It will accelerate from 5 to 25 miles in 8½ seconds; climb an 11% grade in high gear and develop 60 miles per hour. It is free from mechanical defects and will stay out of the repair shop.

5 The car is well balanced, with scientific spring suspension and seat cushioning. The result is the superior riding qualities of the big, high priced cars. In riding comfort, the car is equaled by few, if any, small cars on the market.

6 The price of $995 f. o. b. Detroit is low compared with half a dozen other Sixes selling for more money. Actual comparisons with such cars, ranged alongside an Erskine, will demonstrate the truth of this assertion.

If you appreciate quality and value, examine and drive an ERSKINE SIX before you buy any car this Spring

Other models are the Tourer, seating five, $945; the Custom Coupe with dickey seat, seating four, $995; and the Business Coupe seating two, $945 f. o. b. factory, with excise tax and freight to be added.

FRIGIDAIRE—Low Cost Refrigeration

This does an extra man's work by eliminating outside ice supply

This Frigidaire "frost coil" placed in the ice compartment of your refrigerator is equal to 35 tons of ice a year.

TO BE able to buy perishables in larger quantities and to be sure that they will keep in perfect condition until they are sold—to keep your refrigerator at a uniformly low temperature without the daily necessity of reicing—these considerations would make Frigidaire show a profit for you. And in addition, Frigidaire's operating cost is actually less than the cost of ice. Grocers, meat merchants, druggists, hotel and restaurant owners, florists and confectioners have found that Frigidaire will cut their costs and increase their profits. Over 300,000 users will testify to the efficiency, economy and year-in, year-out dependability of Frigidaire. Find out what Frigidaire will do for you.

Legislature For Salary Raises For Own Members

(From News Bureau)
(State Capital)

HARRISBURG, Pa., April 7.—Following the popular pastime of raising salaries by and large, the House of Representatives passed a bill Wednesday afternoon shortly before adjournment raising the salaries of both House and Senate and also providing an increase in the mileage paid.

The bill as passed by the House provides that the salary of a member shall be $3,000 and that he shall receive five cents per mile circular for each week he shall be in attendance. This means that the mileage will be paid for every trip a member makes.

The present salary of a member is $2,500 per session with one round trip mileage allowed at 30 cents per mile. For a member from Western Pennsylvania it means about $175 mileage during the session. Under the new act if it passes the senate and is signed it will mean about $450 mileage.

While the bill passed it did so by a narrow margin only 112 voting for it and 65 being against it. The vote required for passage is 105.

Carnegie Coal Company May Be Reorganized Soon

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, April 7.—Indications that he Carnegie Coal company, one of the John A. Bell interests would shortly be reorganized were seen here today in efforts of the first mortgage bondholders committee to secure deposits of $7,500,000 worth of bonds as working capital in the project.

The coal company which suffered when the Bell interests crumpled with the bursting of the aged Carnegie banker's financial bubble, is to be reorganized according to the committee's plans, as soon as the entire sum in first mortgage bonds is on deposit. More than 85 per cent is already available it is said.

The committee seeking the reorganization consists of Robert L. Clarkson of the Chase National bank, New York; S. A. Taylor, mining engineer and J. T. M. Stoneroad.

Lebanon's Pleas Win For Gretna

House Committee Kills Bill To Consider Moving Guard Reservation

HARRISBURG, Pa., AprN 7.—After a public hearing the House military affairs committee killed by a vote of 13 to 5 the bill designed to create a commission to determine the advisability of moving the National Guard training reservation from Mount Gretna. Strong opposition was voiced by Lebanon county speakers. A proposal to move the encampment to a Center county location had been under consideration.

Strong opposition was voiced by Lebanon county residents at a public hearing before the House Military affairs committee this morning. The delegation from Lebanon county was composed of 85 persons.

The bill provided for the creation of a commission consisting of the governor, the major general commanding the National Guard, the adjutant general, brigadier generals and the chief of staff of the Twenty-eighth Division.

Lebanon county residents in telling of the interest the bill has aroused said that mass meetings had been held at which a united opposition to any attempt to move the reservation was voiced. They emphasized the fact that additional land could be purchased in the vicinity of the reservation to permit expansion.

Major General William G. Price Jr., division commander, told the committee that the present reservation was too small for the training of the entire division. A tract in Center county of approximately 12,000 acres is under consideration if the grounds are moved.

"Field artillery must train with the infantry", General Price said. "We haven't the room at Mount Gretna at present for the entire Twenty-Eighth Division. Another important factor to be considered is the danger from rifle fire. The cottagers at Mount Gretna are endangered by the soldiers, for we must use live ammunition. The reservation should be where there are no people."

Senator Freeman of Lebanon county and Gabriel H. Moyer, also of Lebanon, spoke against the bill. Both mentioned the fact that the grounds had been used for years by the National Guard.

Two Men Admit Stealing 24 Pigs

But Refuse To Reveal How They Kept Animals Quiet During Thefts

ALLENTOWN, April 7.—Chicken stealing has become a fine art and the old method of neck-twisting has been superceded by the more modern way of "gassing", which makes capture easy and overcomes the dangers of discovery through cackling.

But to steal live, squealing pigs is quite another matter, yet Edward Beisel, 53, and James Meyers, 42, both of Northampton, accomplished this and did it so successfully, too, that they had appropriated for their own use 24 of these animals before their owner, R. F. Rabert, Schoenersville, made the discovery and caused their arrest. How they squelched the squeal of the porkers still is a mystery as they refused to reveal their secret at a hearing before Squire Sieger in Coplay last night. They were committed to the Lehigh county prison after confessing.

The soloists of the evening will include Mrs. June Bernard, soprano; Mrs. J. J. Bornman, contralto; Fred Smith, tenor and C. P. Reynolds, bass.

About 35 voices will take part.

Sports Club Protest Dynamiting Of Fish

MERCER, Pa., April 7. — The members of the Mercer Rod and Gun Club are indignant at the violations of the game laws that have taken place already this spring in the dynamiting of fish in the streams around Mercer.

It is stated that the violations are of such flagrant character as to indicate that the persons involved were cognizant of the fact that there was no fish warden in the county.

It is stated that application has been made to Harrisburg for the appointment of a warden but nothing as yet has been done. The members of the local club and associate sportsmen's clubs in the county state that they intend doing everything within reason to protect the streams from future violations. It is stated by Attorney J. W. Nelson, member of the club and well known for his interest in protection of game that any violations reported will be vigorously prosecuted by the club.

It is pointed out that the amount of streams in Mercer County in which fish may be found are spread over such a wide territory that the watching of them is a task of no mean proportions.

A protest will be sent to Harrisburg against the present condition and protection of the streams asked of the appointment of a fish warden in the county who will take the matter in hand.

Railroad Asks For Permission To Build Additional Tracks

Interstate Commerce Commission Gets Request For Construction Permit

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, April 7.—The Pittsburgh and West Virginia railway has filed with the Interstate Commerce Commission an application for a certificate to construct 38.14 miles of trackage near Cochran's Mill, Allegheny county, Pa., to connect its lines with those of the Western Maryland railroad, it was learned here today.

Because the application was incomplete, the commission said, details would not be made public at present.

Word from Washington that the Pittsburgh and West Virginia railway is seeking permission to lay tracks connecting its road with the Western Maryland in Allegheny county reveals a plan to link the two roads in a gigantic seaboard-to-Great Lakes freight system, in the opinion of railroad men.

The proposed stretch would link the Western Maryland from Baltimore with the Wheeling and Lake Erie line through Pittsburgh and West Virginia to the Ohio border, thence via the Wheeling and Lake Erie direct to Toledo and via the Ann Arbor road to Frankfort, Mich., on Lake Michigan.

Through this point and Wisconsin shipping points across the lake, Duluth, Minn., and other northern mid-west points would be brought nearly four days nearer the Atlantic seaboard, in the opinion of traffic experts.

The new trackage would create a shorter route between Pittsburgh and Baltimore, in addition to opening up an entirely new freight route between the mid-west and the Atlantic seaboard.

Kirk Has Leading Role In Class Play

Seniors To Preseent "Charm" In High School Auditorium Tonight

WILLIAM KIRK

NORMAN LOCKHART

William Kirk, president of the Hi-Y, vice president of the Senior class, circulation manager of the Monitor, and prominent in athletic activities, adds the finishing touch to his reputation for versatility in the Senior play, when he appears as Mr. Lester, the New York man who introduces charm into the home town.

We like Bill's own pleasant, dependable personality best, but we admit that in his new role he is mighty attractive.

Norman Lockhart, former president of Student Council, and Robert MacKenzie, cheerleader, will double in the role of Claude, the jealous lover. You may not believe it but they are really very convincing.

Julia McClenahan, Claire Mae Lindsay, Betty Houstan, Harriet Biven, Madeline Marlin, and DeWayne Glenn complete the cast of "Charm."

An appropriate musical setting has been prepared by the orchestra under La Verne Irvine's direction, and all reports indicate that the Senior play will fulfill all that its title promises.

The new TRAFFIC TYDOL improves your motor's performance in 5 definite ways

Get the new Traffic Tydol from Sealed Tydol Pumps. No premium price.

THE "great open spaces" are melting away before the advance of the country's army of twenty-one million cars. And there's scarcely a cross-road town that doesn't have its traffic-jams. Scarcely a good road that isn't lined with hurrying cars.

To drive in that whirlpool of cars, with safety, ease and speed requires all your skill at the wheel, all your motor's flexibility, and all the sturdiness your car possesses.

But even more, modern traffic demands a new type of motor-fuel—not just a "good" gasoline, not a special-feature gasoline, but a gasoline that makes these 5 improvements in the performance of your motor. First, split-second starting. Second, rushing pick-up. Third, great reserve power for emergencies. Fourth, elastic power to reduce gear-shifting. Fifth, anti-knock qualities to keep a motor quiet and sweet-running.

This gasoline is now offered to the motoring public in the New Traffic Tydol. Impartial tests made by professional car demonstrators proved the New Traffic Tydol superior to other gasolines in the 5 essentials demanded by modern traffic.

The improvement this new gasoline makes in a motor's performance is so apparent that you can easily confirm those tests in your own car. Test Traffic Tydol today!

PROOF

The New TRAFFIC-TYDOL means

1. FASTER STARTING
2. QUICKER PICK-UP
3. MORE POWER
4. LESS GEAR-SHIFTING
5. REDUCES KNOCKING

Above facts proved in impartial, stop-watch tests. New Traffic-Tydol competed with seven other gasolines. Tests made by 16 professional demonstrators, in following cars, picked at random:
Ford, Whippet, Chevrolet, Dodge, Chrysler, Star "6", Pontiac, Nash, Hupmobile "6", Reo, Locomobile "8", Willys-Knight, Franklin, Chandler, Buick, Studebaker

New Traffic-Tydol earned 66 out of possible 70 first places in tests made on 5 separate points. Unanimous choice of all 16 demonstrators as best all around gasoline.

Signed, photostatic records of above tests on file in offices of Tide Water Oil Sales Corporation, 11 Broadway, New York City.

Pupils Taking Tests In Music

Meadville Grade Scholars In Music Memory Contest

MEADVILLE, April 7—Pupils of grades five to eight inclusive are turning their attention to another music memory contest, the fifth to be undertaken in the local schools, and although this is the first week of study on the list of 20 numbers selected by the state department of music, much interest is already manifest in the various grades.

Study of the various numbers will be extended over the month of April when, after elimination contests in the grades, those qualifying will enter the final contest, to be held as usual during national music week, which occurs during the first week of May.

The music memory contest which has been an annual event in several hundred cities and is now being made a state-wide activity in the national awakening to the use of more and better music in the home, school and community, has proven to be a powerful factor in bringing beautiful music into the lives of our youth and also in raising the standards of apreciation of the world's best music.

Many Cities Bidding For Big Conventions Of National Parties

Believe Republican National Convention Will Be Held In Middle West

Detroit May Get Democratic Convention—Many Cities Active

By GEORGE H. MANNING
(Washington Correspondent of the News.)

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 7.—Behind the preliminary sparring, jockeying and speculating over possible candidates for president there is a less ostentatious but just as serious battle among cities seeking to entertain the Republican and Democratic conventions.

The efficient civic booster machinery of city councils, chambers of commerce and other organizations of dozens of cities are hard at work preparing the groundwork for influencing party leaders in making their choice. The bidding among the rival cities is already quite spirited. Several official invitations have been extended both Republican and Democratic national committees, and other cities are doing promotion work among individual national committeemen, members of congress and political leaders.

Only one thing appears certain so far, and that is that neither of the parties will hold their convention in the east. The Republicans will meet many miles from Wall Street in an attempt to secure the good will of the agricultural middle west, while the Democrats in addition to seeking the same support from the corn belt also wish to stay far from the scene of their last unhappy convention at Madison Square.

Officially the Republican and Democratic national committees are not bothered at all over the places of meeting, as this question will be taken up by sub-committees in due course of procedure. But individually the members of both committees and other political leaders are very much concerned over the problem.

Location Important.

The location of the convention frequently has considerable influence on the selection of the candidates, the wording of the platform and the course of the subsequent campaign. For instance, if the Republican convention were held in Cincinnati the galleries would be packed with supporters of Speaker Nicholas Longworth, if the Democratic convention were held in Kansas City, the galleries would cheer long and loudly at every mention of Senator Jim Reed, and so on with other favorite sons. And convention delegates, particularly when worn to the ragged edge by a deadlock, are not beyond the scope of psychological laws by which galleries frequently sway actors of various sorts.

It is still some 15 months before the Republican delegates assemble early in June, 1928, and the Democrats convene in the last half of the same month, so party leaders are saying very little about the efforts being made by many cities to win the selection. The question of the site of the Republican convention will be referred to a sub-committee of the Republican National committee next November. After considering all the bids, a report without recommendation will be made to the full committee in December and action will be taken then on the place where the June convention will be held. The Democrats follow much the same procedure in making their selection and will announce the decision about the same time as the Republicans.

Hotel facilities, convention halls, transportation facilities, convenience and availability, location from a political standpoint and dozens of other advantages are advanced by the partisans of the cities vieing for the convention date lines.

In Middle West.

From this distance it seems probable that the Repubicans might select some city well into the middle west, such as Omaha or Kansas City, unless they decide to try to repeat the successful send-off they received at Cleveland three years ago. Detroit, which has as much civic enterprise as it has automotive genius, is making a strong bid for the Democratic convention and so far there appears to be no reason why it should not be accepted.

It is generally admitted that leaders of both parties have definitely turned their eyes to the west for a convention city. Because the farm relief issue is destined to be a leading one in the presidential campaign, party leaders are listening attentively to offers to hold the conventions in the mid-western grain belt. The far west is under serious and favorable consideration also.

It is the general belief that San Francisco is definitely out to secure one or both of the big meetings. It is understood that an organization of civic and business interests already has a $250,000 fund raised for that purpose.

Cleveland also is out for one or both conventions. The city council has issued an invitation to the Republican and Democratic National committees to take advantage of the city auditorium, where President Coolidge was nominated in 1924 and the late Senator LaFollette named to head the Third Party movement.

Los Angeles is doing some quiet work in hope of securing at least one of the national conventions. Chicago and St. Louis are again in the ring, while Detroit is an ambitious bidder. Denver, the scene of the nomination of William Jennings Bryan in 1908; St. Paul, Des Moines and Indianapolis are all anxious to land the prize.

Conferences with Democratic leaders disclose that Detroit, Cleveland and Chicago are now the leading candidates for the distinction of entertaining the Democratic hosts. It was said to be unlikely that the convention would go either to St. Louis or Kansas City, which are in the home state of Senator James A. Reed. There is no possible chance that the meeting will take place in New York, where the last Democratic national convention gathered, or in Boston, which has put in a bid. There will be opposition to Chicago also from among the dry Democrats in the party on the ground that it is the home of George E. Brennan, Illinois Democratic leader, who would be in a position to pack the galleries for Governor Al Smith of New York. Detroit, which is seeking a national political convention for the first time, was said to be a probable choice, with Cleveland the next best possibility.

Incidentally, either St. Louis or Kansas City are believed to have an excellent chance to get the Republican national convention if the Democrats select neither, as have Omaha and Chicago.

SOLVE FATE OF MISSING FLYERS

Broken Planes And Dead Flyers Found In California On Wednesday

(International News Service)

GUSTINE, Cal., April 7—A crumpled plane, two broken bodies and a few sacks of mail found in a lonely expanse of swamp land, four miles east of here Wednesday, solved the mystery of the disappearance early Sunday of an air mail plane flying from Fresno to San Francisco.

The two occupants of the plane Edward Neher and Albert Shaller are believed to have met instant death when the ship crashed.

The cause of the accident probably will never be known. One man grasped a flash light as if the lights of the plane might have failed.

The plane apparently made a landing then struck an obstruction, turned over and crushed its two passengers beneath it.

Honor H. R. Johnson At County Banquet Wednesday Evening

Birthday Anniversary Of Ellwood Man Is Celebrated With Banquet

Affair Takes Place In Dining Room Of New Castle Elks Home

ELLWOOD CITY, Pa., April 7.—Honoring H. R. Johnson, General Agent of the Northwestern Pennsylvania agency of the Provident Mutual Life Insurance company, in commemoration of the 51st anniversary of his birthday, 34 members of the agency presented him with a novel gift at a delicious five course banquet in the main dining room of the Elks club in New Castle, Wednesday evening.

In the course of two weeks time, the members secured applications for life insurance amounting to $200,000. The first effort was made to secure one for each year of Mr. Johnson's age, but the agency went over the top in their enthusiasm and secured 64 applications. Each agent selected his favorite flower, and about the stems wrapped the policy in a funnel shape, making a beautiful floral offering of assorted flowers which was presented to the honor guest by Miss Muriel Mort, who has made her appearance earlier in the program in a specialty dance number. Mr. Johnson was so overcome with surprise and gratification that he was unable to speak coherently in response.

The banquet was served, with J. C. Williams acting as toastmaster, introducing the members of the agency with appropriate remarks, who responded to a man voicing allegiance to their company and complimenting the guest of honor.

At the conclusion of the dinner, which boasted dainty favors of pink and white, and a huge wedding cake baked especially for the occasion by Mrs. H. R. Johnson, the following program of entertainment was presented.

A specialty dance by Miss Muriel Mort; two readings by J. C. Williams; solo by Sam Lewis, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Robert Flemming. The balance of the evening was spent informally.

Out of town guests present were: O. H. Chain of Erie; Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Thompson of Sharpsville; Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Hildebrand from Sharon; James A. Rickter of Sharon and the following from Ellwood City; Mrs. H. R. Johnson and the honor guest, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Hall, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Johnston, Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Carlson, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde B. Houk and Hugh Hardy.

Usually you can tell by watching the man with the hoe whether he is interested in a crop or bait.

PAINTER'S SCALE TROUBLE SETTLED

Adjustment Is Made In Wage Dispute In New Castle

It was stated today that there has been an adjustment of the wage demands of the union painters, as a result of the visit of Thomas Finn of the United State Department of Labor and that an agreement has been reached, which will be in force here during the coming year.

Under the agreement reached Wednesday, the painters will receive $9.50 a day until June 1, an increase of fifty cents a day and $10 after June 1, an increase of $1 a day and the rate demanded by the painters. Their demand for a five day week is also granted effective June 1. It is said that the contractors will sign this new scale as soon as some minor working conditions have been agreed upon. It is also understood that the union painters will return to work the first of the week.

It is also stated that the wage increase demanded by the plasterers has been agreed to by a majority of the plasterer contractors. It provides for an increase of $1 a day, the new scale being $13 a day.

While not officially known, it is said that the electricians plan to ask for an increase, although they have not as yet presented their demands.

PETERS ADVENTURES IN ANIMAL LAND

By Florence Smith Vincent

ALL'S WELL THAT ENDS WELL

When the lean dog had told all that had happened since last he had seen his master, and Petares had told the lean hound why Old Hippo had run into the river and how frightened he himself had been when he found himself alone at night on the desert, and of the kindness of the strangers among whom he had fallen, the boy and the dog discovered how tired they both were.

"My paws ache with weariness, dear master!" growled that lean dog. "The sand has stung and cut them."

"Lie down and rest, then!" commanded Petares, and when the dog had done as he had been told, Petares confessed he was glad the night was not yet over.

"My eyes are so heavy with sleep that I can scarcely keep them open," whispered Petares. "Now that we have found each other there is no reason why we should not go to sleep and have pleasant dreams. Nothing can harm us. The guard watches over us. How you sneaking in I do not know, but I am sure no beast of the desert could have done it."

Again Petares was right. No beast of the desert could have stolen past the night watch. From a distance the kindly guard had seen the lone dog trotting toward camp, had guessed at once the dog was trailing the strange boy asleep nearby, and had let him (lean dog) in, unchallenged—curiosity urging him to wait and see what would happen when the boy and dog met. He had heard Petares' cry, by the lights of the moon had seen Petares' arms around the dog's neck, had smiled as he watched the two pals cuddle down on the ground together. "All is well with the boy and his dog," said the guard to himself as he turned away. "Whoever might have the heart to disturb such loyal friends, it is not I."

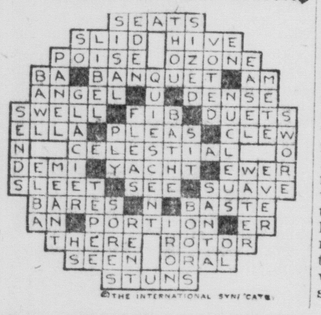

This is why, when dawn came and Petares and the lean dog awoke they found the men of the camp standing about them, smiling. Petares didn't have to explain a thing. The guard had told the men all about it. To tell the truth, Petares and the lean dog were a little bit ashamed of themselves for sleeping so late, but they had to make the best of it. Jumping up, they ate a hurried breakfast, then took their places in the line of march, for the strange men had broken camp and were on their way to the city on the Nile.

Petares and the lean dog had had enough of the desert, and once on their way, thought they would never reach their journey's end. At last, in the distance, they saw the city that was home. Petares' heart sang for joy, and his feet fairly skipped as they carried him toward it. The tail of the lean dog went to wigwagging. And the strange men laughed aloud to see the boy and the dog so gay.

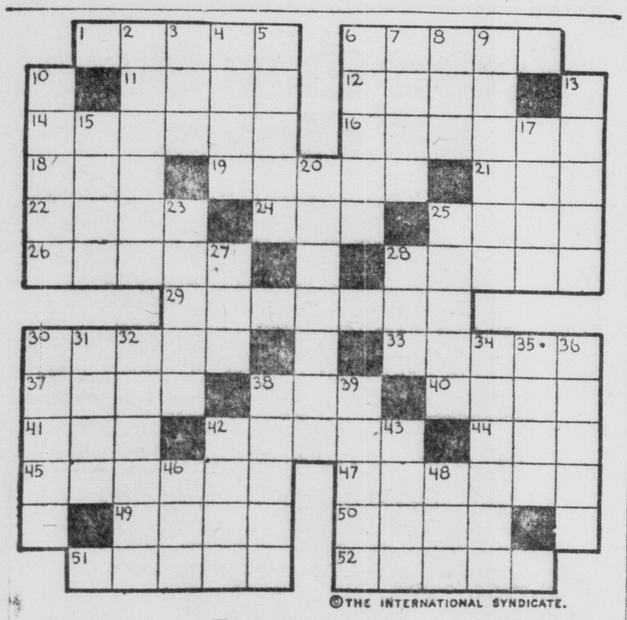

They entered the city gates, hurried along the city's streets and came to the house of mourning. The damage the robber locusts had done to the crops and the garden was forgotten. The wailing and weeping ceased. Instead, there was music and dancing. To every man of the company who had given shelter to Petares on the desert Petares' father gave a piece of money and invited him to a feast. Every wish that Petares made was granted. The new sandals he had wanted so long, the ring of his father's he had so often admired, a brand new, shiny spear, all were now his. As for the lean dog, the meatiest bones were saved for him and the softest mat. Secretly Petares and the lean dog were glad they had wandered away; it was such fun being found and brought back again. Petares' father and mother were far too happy to scold them. All's well that ends well. The boy and the dog decided there was no place like home. The father and mother made up their minds nothing mattered as long as they and their boy were safe and well. Joy had driven sorrow out of their heart and home.

CLAIMS TUNNEY SUPREME AS HEAVYWEIGHT KING

Dempsey Logical Contender, View

Inclined To Believe Jack Kearns, Not Tunney, Defeated Dempsey

TOMMY LOUGHRAN IS GIVEN BOOST

BY DAVIS J. WALSH
Sports Editor Internat'al News Service

NEW YORK, April 7.—It may be of fleeting interest to Gene Tunney to know that his ex-friend and now his severest critic without a contest, Tim Mara, regards the champion as a cake walk, a one to 10 shot, against the field of heavyweight contenders as they stand today. Mara is a successful race track bookmaker, so the quoting of odds with him is not idle converse; he is a professional football promoter. Hence to him money is no object provided it is someone else's; and he is one of a most select few whose dinero rode with Tunney against Dempsey, therefore his words are wisdom until such time as bigger and better ones turn up.

Tunney Supreme

He, however, named Tunney as a stand-out today with at least one reservation, to the effect that all bets were off if Dempsey succeeded in coming back to his 1923 form, it being his contention that Jack Kearns, and not Gene Tunney, beat the ex-champion. Lacking definite knowledge of Dempsey's condition, Mara intimated that he was forced to regard Jack Sharkey and Jimmy Maloney as the best of the contenders, and here again another reservation was interpolated.

It was to the effect that Tommy Loughran, Philadelphia light-heavyweight, must not be considered a member of the field.

"I think Loughran can beat all of them except Tunney", Mara said. "He's too fast and smart for the rest of these fellows, and I think they know it. Anyhow, I notice that none of them is living him a tumble.

"Against Delaney for the light-heavyweight title I'd regard Loughran as a sure thing and bet that way. However, if Dempsey could come back like the old Jack, he would beat them all, Tunney included. I figured Kearns would break him down with legal worries, bet heavily on the idea, and at Philadelphia I saw Kearns win that fight instead of Tunney. Still, you can't consider Dempsey until he shows something besides a hospital bill and a lot of skin eruptions."

The Dempsey-Tunney fight was the first of Mara's two betting coups of the last twelve-month. The other was the Maloney-Delaney match, where Mara took the short end of 2 1-2 to one on Maloney and cleaned up. Now he is inclined to like Maloney over Sharkey on May 19.

Likes Maloney

"They appeal to me as the stand-out pair in the field just now", he said, "and of the two I like Maloney. This fellow Paolino will go just so far and no further, as I see him. Heeney won't do and Delaney and McTigue have been relegated to the class where they belong.

"It would be a joke to send Dempsey in with that bunch if Jack had any part of his old stuff. But the easy life he has led and the trouble with his spine and his blood leaves him open to serious question on this comeback thing. If he went in with Tunney tomorrow I'd bet all the money I could raise against him. But if he proved he really can come back I would bet just as readily the other way.

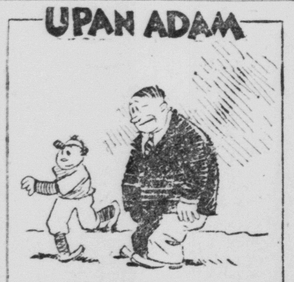

"As it is, I can't blind myself to Tunney's lead over the others, in spite of the fact that I have been forced to bring suit against him. Nobody realizes just how good Tunney is. He is a poor showman; otherwise his fine defense and his excellent head and accurate hitting would have impressed more people. And I have neglected to add his most important asset, the care he takes of himself. Say what you will about Gene Tunney, he'll always be ready."

Fownes Loses Golf Round To Crawford

PINEHURST, N. C., April 7. — The only favorite in the first round of match play to go by the board here Wednesday in the North and South amateur golf championship was President William C. Fownes, Jr., of the United States Golf Association, and the national amateur champion of 1910. He lost his 20-hole match to a fellow member of his club, Oakmont, Pittsburgh, Joseph Crawford.

Triple Attraction At Y.M.C.A. Friday

Basketball, Wrestling And Volley Ball Teams To Meet

A big time is promised Friday evening, April 8, at the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium when three events will be staged. The Junior Basketball championship of the city will be decided when the Peerless Club and the Liberty Five will meet for the third and last game of the series. The Butler Y. M. C. A. are sending teams for contests in wrestling and Volley ball.

The basketball game starts at 7:00 o'clock.

Each team has won a game by a two point margin in the two games already held and it is likely that the game Friday evening will be hotly contested. The Y. M. floor has been chosen for the contest because it will be a neutral floor.

Richards, the High School star will play center for the Peerless Club while Nocera who played championship ball for the Rick-Overland team will be one of the forwards for the Liberty Five.

The game is called for an early hour on account of the inter-city wrestling match and volley ball game with Butler on the same floor.

The lineup for basketball will be:

Peerless Club		Liberty Five
C. Marino	F	Neyman
B. Marino	F	Nocera
Richards	C	Parker
Honkonen	G	Jenkins
Fernati	G	Kulich

Three wrestling matches have already been arranged with Butler wrestlers to take place immediately after the basketball game in the Y gym on Friday evening.

Offutt, Pearl and Decarbo have been matched with three Butler men. Two other matches will likely be arranged, the champion from Sewickley may be one of the contestants. The Butler men have been hard to match on account of their odd weights, says Walter Kirker, physical director of the local Y. But he assures that there will be three good bouts and likely that the two others will be arranged.

Following the wrestling bouts will be a lively game of volley ball between the New Castle Y. M. C. A. team and that of Butler. A lively practice will be held tonight and the team selected from a good squad of players. It is likely that Butler will go home with the small end of the score.

The volley ball team will be chosen from the following men: Mark Raab, Thos. Elliott, Dr. Chas. Reed, Cap. Melvin Craig, Ed Rutter, Morris Lippman, Dr. Wm. Cleland, Carl Hanna and Al. Dean.

Boxing Monopolies No Longer Exist In New York State

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, April 7.—So-called "boxing monopolies" can no longer exist in New York state as a result of the action of the New York State Athletic commission in adopting a ruling against "blanket" contracts —agreements covering options on services of boxers for stated time limits—except where opponents and dates are specified.

The ruling means that promoters cannot hold boxers to such agreements if they desire to break away and sign with other promoters. It was pointed out that Gene Tunney, for instance, is not bound to the contract he signed with promoter Tex Rickard in St. Louis last January because neither the champion's next opponent nor the date and location of the bout is named.

Although the ruling gives other promoters an equal chance against Rickard, the leading impressario in these parts, it was not believed that Tex would lose the next heavyweight championship bout. Promoter Humbert Fugazy, for one, declared he was not interested in signing Tunney, although it was reported that Fugazy is dickering for a match between Paolino Uzcudun and Harry Wills and also for a match involving Jack Sharkey, Boston heavyweight.

Kraft-Gillium Awarded Letters

Two Local Boys Win Letters At Grove City College; Gillium Named Captain

GROVE CITY, Pa., April 7.—Charles "Horse" Gillium of New Castle, Pa., sophomore at Grove City College, was elected captain of the Crimson basketball team for 1927-28 at a meeting of the letter men here today. The honor is an unusual one, he being named as floor leader in his second year at school.

Gillium's selection met with the approval of all his teammates, the student body, faculty and townsfolk as well. The giant center is one of the most popular chaps on the campus. His ability on the hardwoods, coupled with his fine personality, will make him an ideal leader for the Grovers next year.

"Horse", as he is commonly known to the basketball populace of the Tri-State district, has seen two years of service under Coach Bob Thorn at Grove City and still has two years of collegiate play remaining. He enjoyed a banner year on the courts this past winter, being named on the tri-state non-conference team as the outstanding center in the district. Gillium's play was instrumental in several of the Crimson's fine victories. His ability to cover both ends of the floor, and his uncanny method of caging the spheroid from all angles of the court make him a valuable man to the team.

Gillium stands six feet four and a half inches in his stocking feet, tips the scales at 210 pounds, and is reputed as one of the few in the world who can grasp a basketball in either hand alone.

At a meeting of the athletic council six members of the varsity team were named to receive letters. They were: Ex-Captain Elmer Stevens, Captain-elect "Horse" Gillium, "Rod" Ryan, Marcus Rankin, Johnny Kraft and Bobby Angelo. Student Manager George Sexton will also be presented with an award.

The Mahoning team led at the end of the first half by a score of 18 to 13.

The line-up and summary:

SORDS POINTS

Will He Puzzle Pitchers as He Does Printers?

By NORMAN E. BROWN.

When he was in the American Association Mr. De Witt Lebourveau drove more pitchers to the showers and more printers to the queer factory than any other player.

His bat proved the undoing of pitchers by the score and his name ruined day after day for compositors—who not only had to wrestle with the name themselves but correct the mistakes the sport writers made (Hey, Mac! Watch this copy.)

He hit .377 for the Toledo team last season, collected 45 stolen bases, socked 17 homers, 33 doubles and 12 triples, scored 124 runs and was given credit for shoving in 117.

Saw his name spelled correctly in 17 of the 164 box scores printed outside Toledo.

Now he's with the Giants. He's boked to play leftfield and lead off for the Giants. McGraw confidently expects him to keep pace with Eddie Roush, Terry, Lindstrom, Hornsby and the other sluggers who have been through the mill.

As I write of Mr. Lebourveau there is still fresh in my memory the battle a young Florida scribe waged with the young slugger's name when the Giants played the Athletics there during the training grind.

First time Lebourveau came to bat the dashing scribe attempted to spell his name and the result was something like L-e-v-o-r-b--o--n. aFiling to make himself clear the scribe spelled it over again entirely different.

The second time "Bevo" came to The third time Lebourveau came again. "L-a-b-e-a-u-v-o-r" was the best he could get out of it.

The third time Lebourvean came to the plate the local boy capitulated.

"That guy with the funny name's up again. Spell it any way you want to' was the way he disposed of the puzzling collection of leters.

N. B.—The printer spelled the name correctly all three times.

In the final block of his 300-point match with former Champion Augie Kieckhefer of Chicago, Reiselt ran his needed 60 points in 58 innings. The new champion, starting the final block with a 37-point lead, played the best billiards of the five-block match, which he won by 300 to 240. He made frequent runs of three or better and and often worked out of difficult positions with dazzling, spectacular shots.

Golf Alphabet—B

By Feg Murray

"How doth the little busy 'B' improve each shining hour?" "Bye, Bafy, Brassie, Bogey, Bisque—from Bunke into Bower. I suppose to finish the famous question in keeping with the Golf Alphabet. Truly the "murmuring of innumerable B's has been going one ever since the inventor of golf decided that the game should be played with a Ball, and many a champion's and near champion's name has begun with the second letter of the alphabet.

Two of the most colorful of these "B's" are Mary Browne and John Black runersup, respectively in the women's national championship in 1924 and the United States open in 1922 Mis Browne is now awaiting the decision of the United States Golf association in regard to her amateur standing as a golfer due to her tennis activities as a member of C. C. Pyle's traveling troupe of professionals; while Black (now nearly 45 years old is still competing and making good scores in western tournaments.

One of the latest golfing sensations of America is William Budke formerly a caddie at Danville, Ky. In winning the Florida open championship last February he not only broke the course record at the Celarwater Country club with a 69 but defeated such famous pros as Bobby Cruickshank, Bill Mehlhorn Tommy Armour and Mike Brady. The last named "B" tied for the United States open title in 1911 and 1919 but had the misfortune to lose the play off both times. On Labor Day 1917 Brady distinguished himself by shooting three holes-in-one in a single round.

The British Isles have given many famous B's to the game of golf. Among them are John Ball, eight times winner o the Brntish amateur championship; James Braid five times British open champion, one of the longest drivers in history and the maker of 11 holes-in-one, and Jim Barnes, United States open champion in 1921 and British open champion four years later.

France has contributed Aubrey Boomer, French open champion in 1921 and '22 and Baron Francois de Bellet and his daughter each of whom won a French championship. Another woman champion of France was Gladys Bastin of England and the first United States women's tournament was won by Mrs. C. S. Brown. Miss Georgiana Bishop won the crown in 1904 and 22 years later won the senior women's golf title for the second time.

First Pinch In Coal Strike Is Now Noticeable

Pittsburgh To Expend $30,000 For Facilities To Store Coal Supply

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, April 7. — The public today felt the first pinch of the bituminous coal controversy in the announcement that at Pittsburgh alone the cost of storing coal for the city's water pumping stations would add $30,000 to the municipal expense sheet.

This was taken as an indication of conditions expected to prevail not only in municipalities throughout Western Pennsylvania, but in industrial enterprises as well.

Despite the absence of a formal announcement from the headquarters here of the United Mine Workers, pessimism prevailed as to the success of the conference between Philip Murray, International Vice President of the mine workers and Gov. John Fisher at Harrisburg.

With the return of Murray and Sheriff Robert H. Braun, from Harrisburg, where the latter went to attend a political rally, a showdown in Braun's non-picketing edict was expected late today. Braun conferred with labor leaders here regarding his stand against assemblage of unionists near non-union mines, and the Allegheny county sheriff promises to issue a clarified statement as to his stand today.

Coke Production Shows Increase

No Effort Made To Carry Strike Into Coke Regions Reported

(International News Service)

CONNELLSVILLE, Pa., April 7. —With the exception of a slight increase in production by furnace and merchant coke operations in this district, there has been little noticeable effect of the bituminous mine suspension in the Connellsville region, the International News Service weekly survey today revealed.

Production for the past week for which figures are available show the total for the region to have been 149,420 tons, the high mark of the year to date. This was a gain of 4,430 tons over the preceding week. Over 200 ovens were lighted at merchant plants and 86 at furnace plants.

No effort has been made to carry the strike into this region. Observers believe that the fact that the scale of wages here is on a level with the Jacksonville agreement, coupled with the fact that the United States Steel corporation is prepared to spend millions to check unionists' activities, will keep the district immune from participating in the controversy.

An attempt to organize the coke region in 1922 was abandoned.

This modern age knows that Camel goodness is dependable

THIS modern age is the hardest to please ever known, and it delights in Camel. The smokers of today find tobacco enjoyment in Camels, for their goodness always is so dependable. The choicest tobaccos, and the most superb blending known to the smoking art are Camels.

In Camel you will find out what modern smokers demand—a smoothness, mildness and mellowness that you've never known before. That's why Camels never fail to meet the strict, exacting demands of present-day smokers. This modern age knows the sure call to smoke enjoyment: "Have a Camel!"

HIGH LIGHTS OF HISTORY

Registered U. S. Patent Office.

The Progress of Emancipation—Part Two.

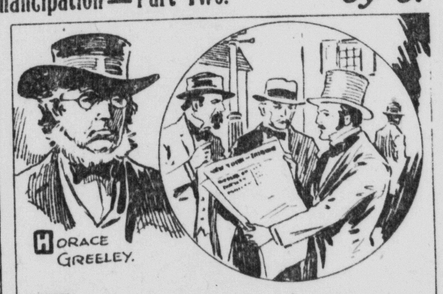

by J. CARROLL MANSFIELD

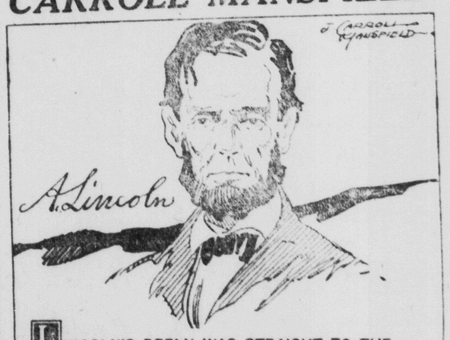

AS THE CIVIL WAR WENT ON, ANTI-SLAVERY AGITATION IN THE NORTH INCREASED. TWO UNION GENERALS (FREMONT IN MISSOURI, 1861, AND HUNTER IN SOUTH CAROLINA, 1862), ATTEMPTED ON THEIR OWN RESPONSIBILITY TO FREE THE SLAVES BY PROCLAMATION, BUT LINCOLN ANNULLED THESE ORDERS AS EXCEEDING THE AUTHORITY OF GENERALS IN THE FIELD.

IN SPITE OF ITS ASSERTION THAT IT WOULD NOT INTERFERE WITH SLAVERY, CONGRESS SOON SAW THAT THE SLAVES WERE A MILITARY ASSET TO THE CONFEDERACY AND IN AUG. 1861, PASSED THE FIRST OF THE "CONFISCATION ACTS" WHICH AUTHORIZED THE SEIZURE OF CONFEDERATE SLAVES EMPLOYED IN WARLIKE LABOR.

LINCOLN FELT THAT THE MAJORITY OF NORTHERNERS WERE MORE INTERESTED IN SAVING THE UNION THAN THEY WERE IN ABOLITION AND HE FEARED THE WAR WOULD BECOME UNPOPULAR IF EMANCIPATION WERE MADE ITS CHIEF AIM. ON AUG. 19, 1862, HORACE GREELEY PUBLISHED AN EDITORIAL IN HIS PAPER, THE NEW YORK "TRIBUNE", BITTERLY DENOUNCING LINCOLN'S INACTION IN THE MATTER OF EMANCIPATION.

LINCOLN'S REPLY WAS STRAIGHT TO THE POINT. ". . . MY PARAMOUNT OBJECT IN THIS STRUGGLE," HE WROTE TO GREELEY, "IS TO SAVE THE UNION AND IS NOT EITHER TO SAVE OR DESTROY SLAVERY. IF I COULD SAVE THE UNION WITHOUT FREEING ANY SLAVE, I WOULD DO IT; AND IF I COULD SAVE IT BY FREEING ALL THE SLAVES, I WOULD DO IT. . . ."

N. Y. STOCKS

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, April 7.—Higher prices for the railroad and specialty stocks were recorded in extremely active trading in the first hour today. New York Central was the rallying ground for the bulls in the rail shares, at the opening, and selling in volume around the highest price in the history of the company.

Advances in other rail shares were held up by a large amount of profit taking, but Pere Marquette, Western Maryland and Erie made further gains.

Durant's "startling" statement had been quite accurately forcasted, and was without significance in the stock market. Though retiring from directorates, he retains his stock in important companies, nor does he liquidate his speculative holdings of stocks.

Call money was in supply at 4 per cent. Commodity markets were generally quiet, with few important price changes.

Four Miners Are Held For Assault

Non-Union Miner Charges Four Union Men With Waylaying Him

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Pa., April 7.—Bitter feeling between union and non-union forces in the bituminous mine suspension in this district came to a head here today when four union miners were lodged in jail on charges of assaulting John Buiser, a non-unionist employed in the Rich Hill mine of the McClane Mining company near here.

Buiser filed information with Alderman J. Chael here charging Andy Mantanich, 42; Louis Shriver, 43; Joe Bisack, 47, and Frank Failich, 35, all of Meadowland, near here, waylaid him when he was returning from work and beat him. The men were arrested by state police today and lodged in jail in default of $500 bond. Failich was held in $500 additional bail on a charge of threatening Buiser's life.

At the same time Louis Severn and Louis Gaston, union miners, of McDonald, were released on $1,000 bail each on charges of threatening the life of Julian Ballart, bus driver for the Pittsburgh Coal company. Ballart said he rescued a non-union miner from a crowd of unionists who took the man from Ballart's bus near McDonald.

All of the men will be given hearings Saturday.

TO MUSTER IN COMPANY B

Expect Organization To Be Mustered Into Service In Near Future

Preparations for mustering in Company B, 125th Engineers are now rapidly taking form and will be completed in the near future. It is anticipated that the organization will be mustered into the federal and state service within a very short time.

The company will hold a drill this evening at 7:30 o'clock in the armory on Neshannock avenue and all members and prospective members are urged to be present on account of the short time which still remains until the company is mustered into the service. A hundred percent attendance is desired.

There are quite a number of discharge papers for former members of Troop A in the hands of the former officers of the troop and who are now associated with Company B. This is also true concerning a number of drill pay chacks of former Troop A. members. It is desired to get both into the hands of those to whom they belong with as little delay and trouble as possible.

In the case of the drill pay checks if it is found impossible to deliver them within a reasonable length of time it will be necessary to return them to the finance officer.

May Require All City Employes To Reside In City

YOUNGSTOWN, O., April 7. — An ordinance requiring that all city employes must reside within the corporate limits is being considered by Councilman Owen E. James.

James, Wednesday, declared he has received protests from a number of persons because some of the employes reside outside the city. He declared that from information he has secured several of them reside in Sharon.

"I am considering having an ordinance drafted and may present it to council," James declared. "I don't think it is right that the city should go outside the corporate limits and get its help."

An old superstition still prompts many actors to lite their hats when passing a theater under construction, to "bring luck" to the new playhouse.

Akron Man Trains For Egg Eating Championship

AKRON, O., April 7. — Francis Degley, 22, of 940 Cole avenue, who claims to be the world's egg eating champion, with a capacity of fifty "cackle berries" at one meal, has gone into pre-Easter training, he announced today.

He has been getting into condition to meet all comers in an Easter egg eating contest by devouring hen fruit in lots of thirty-six at a sitting.

"I usually practice in the afternoons and follow up with a good supper before I go to work at night," the gastronomic artist averred.

"And it isn't only eggs I can eat, either. Last summer I won a pie eating contest and a watermelon eating contest on the same day and within an hour at a Kenmore picnic.

"I'd like a crack at some of these alleged coffee drinking champs, too, for I never consume fewer than seven cups at a meal, and frequently call for more."

Degley says he never had an attack of indigestion. He is not fat. He has the lean lines and hard muscles of a boxer.

In his cellar is a regular boxer's gynasium, and in the open land near his home he gets plenty of road work, which counteracts any ill effect that might result if he should over eat, he says. He has taken part in several headline boxing matches before local clubs, he adds, proving his hearty appetite has not impaired his physical well being.

"I know I can eat fifty eggs any day in the week, and I'll do it in a public test any time, anywhere," he proclaimed. "I read recently of Miss Kathleen Hayden, who was able to stow away only three dozen eggs in eighty-five minutes, and I thought she must still be in the amateur class. Like her, I swallow my eggs direct from the shell, raw."

Dagley is married and has an infant daughter. He has lived in Akron practically all his life. He works for an East Akron rubber company.

Worst Famine In China Predicted

U. S. Experts Anticipate Price Which Will Be Paid For Revolution

WASHINGTON, April 7.—One of the worst famines in history will be the price which China will pay for her revolution, government experts who have spent many years in the far east forecast here today.

The seeding time in China which corresponds to American seasons finds the most fertile part of the country overrun with marauding armies. This is the Yangtse river valley, the country between the Yangtse and the Yellow rivers and the south of China.

There is yet no indication of when internal order will be restored. Furthermore when the armies are disbanded they are expected to break up into groups or brigades to further terrorize the country.

They will have no means of livelihood except preying on the land and comparatively few Chinese will have saved anything from the revolution.

There are of course vast parts of China as yet unaffected by the revolution but these require nearly all they produce for local consumption.

Even in normal years China has experienced famines due to a failure of a crop in some part of the vast republic. Thousands have died of starvation.

Experts expect to witness a famine next year more severe than any which has gone before. It will be intensified by the fact that the armies are now confiscating or destroying food stored for the spring and summer as they advance.
